OUTLINE PURPOSES OF ORGANIZATION

Reasons for Formation of Chamber of Commerce of United States

ADDRESS OF HARRY A. WHEELER

President of the Organization Says It Would Aid Every Administration by Cordial Cooperation —Defend Business Men

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—To aid every administration by cordial cooperation; to draw together in common bond the business men of America in defense of their good name, and in the creation of an instrumentality through which they may speak as a whole with authority to the executive and to Congress, relative to the things which business needs; to create a force comparable in every respect to the organized forces of labor, and of agriculture—these are the objects of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, now being formed, as outlined by Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, president of the organization.

Mr. Wheeler, expounding his theme here tonight before the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and other commercial bodies, said frankly that aside from natural evolution, another reason for the organization of a National body at this time, "is the indiscriminate attack made upon us generally, upon the public platform, and in the daily and periodical press of the country."

"The popular prejudice which was first aroused against the railroad has extended its line of attack to include the industrial life of the nation, and the profession of banking," he said. "Peculiar sentiment has it that all who have been successful in the accumulation of wealth, have become so by predatory means, and that rottenness underlies the entire commercial fabric of the nation. To be popular with the general public upon the platform has been to give voice to violent attacks upon these attacks. To popularize the periodical press, statements having little foundation often have been made or an isolated example of evildoing was made to bear upon an entire industry.

'As an argument for the larger governmental regulation of business one of the candidates in the last Presidential campaign emphatically declared that the business interests of the country were engaged in a chaotic struggle to devour each other, and that all were combined in an effort to enslave the working man.

"For ten years this campaign of misrepresentation has been going on with little or no contradiction on the part of business, and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States enters the field to present a legitimate defense against these unjust attacks.

"Ninty per cent of American business is honest. The American business man stands in the forefront of those who adhere to the highest principles of honor and integrity, but single-handed he has been powerless to present a proper defense."

Other subjects touched upon by Mr. Wheeler were the assistance of Congress in enacting reasonable legislation for the relation of industrial corporations, the development of a merchant marine, the enactment of monetary legislation, making the banking system more stable, and allowing for branches in foreign ports and the encouragement of reciprocity. The organization, he said, was being affected not for purpose of warfare, but that compromise and arbitration might take the place of open antagonism.

THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Americans Hope for Victory Despite Defeat of Last Month

Boston, July 14.—Notwithstanding the American golfing defeat abroad last month, it is the belief of Tom McNamara and Mike Brady, two of the players who returned today, that there is sufficient golfing material in this country to meet successfully the counter attack of the British and French professionals at the Country Club this Fall.

In the International team from the other side of the Atlantic will be composed of Edward Ray, Harry Vardon, Wilfred Reid, of England, and Arnaud Massy and Louis Tellier, of France.

The American open championship will be held on September 17th and 18th over the same course on which the amteur championship was decided three years ago. The links are slightly under 6,400 yards but some of the holes are so narrow and well-trapped that straight and far-driving is at a premium.

The foreign players are expected here late in August, or early in September, and will probably play several New York, Philadelphia and Boston courses before beginning practice at the Country Club. Later several of them may visit the West.

McNamara said that McDermott, who finished in fifth place in the British championship, would make another effort in 1915 to win the leading gilfing title of the world.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Young Farmer Charged With Killing Mill Employe.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 14.—William Hughes, a farmer, was arrested late today charged with the murder of Coker Cox, a mill employe, who was killed near Tucapau last night. The coroner's jury found that Cox came to his death at the hands of Hughes, and held Lula Huff, a negro woman, as an accessory. Hughes and Cox quarreled at the negro's house, and the shooting followed. Hughes was arrested in Greenville county while trying to escape.

CONDEMNS THE FILIBUSTER

Senator Owen Introduces Amendment to Senate Rules Designed to End Filibustering—Would Terminate Minority Veto

Library of Congress

Washington, July —Senator Owen today introduced an amendment to the Senate rules which, he said would put an end to filibusters in that body. It is entitled "The Cloture Resolution, or the Resolution to Terminate the Right of Minority Veto," and, speaking of the measure today, he said it was not introduced because of any fear of a filibuster against the tariff bill.

"I wish it to be clearly understood," he said, "that my demand for a change in the rules of the Senate is not at all due to the idea that the adoption of such a rule is necessary in order to pass the tariff bill or any other particular bill pending or to be brought forward. My reason for this demand is that I think the welfare of the nation requires it; that the right of the American people to a prompt redemption of party promises is involved."

The Resolution

The resolution as presented today reads:

"That debate or dilatory motions which in the opinion of the Senate are intended to prevent a majority of the Senate from exercising the full and free right to control any matter pending before the Senate, either in legislative or executive sessions, may be terminated by a veto of a majority of the members of the Senate upon notice given by the Senate: Provided, however, that this rule shall not be invoked to prevent reasonable debate by any Senator who requests an opportunity to express his views upon such pending matter within a time to be fixed by the Senate.

"The notice given by the Senate under this section, except by consent, shall not be less than a week, unless such request be made within the last two weeks of the session."

The Oklahoma Senator declared the rules of the Senate have been such as to prevent action, to put the power in the hands of a small fraction or of a single individual, to obstruct legislation without reason, and to prevent action by Congress in response to the National will.

"And many a good bill has died in this way," he added.

"The Senate of the United States has rules for its conduct," the Senator continued, "that makes it almost impossible to get a bill through, except by unanimous consent, where a resolute minority is opposed to the passage of the bill. Under the so-called privilege indefinitely by endless talk in relays and by use of dilatory motions, moving 'no quorum,' moving to 'adjourn,' moving to 'take a recess,' moving to 'adjourn to a day certain,' reading an hour or so from Martin Chuzzlewitt or Pickwick papers, and reading a few chapters of Huckleberry Finn—and this puerile conduct is dignified by the false pretense of being 'freedom of debate,' when, in point of fact, it is nothing of the kind. It is the minority veto under the pretense of freedom of debate, under the false pretense of freedom of debate, under the ridiculous pretense of debate, under the contemptible and odious pretense of freedom of debate.

"This thoughtless rule of unlimited freedom of debate was adopted in 1806, when there were 26 Senators who met to discuss their common affairs, when only a very few bills were brought before the Senate, and who had no conception that unlimited freedom of debate really meant a minority veto.

"Now that the Senate has 96 members, representing 90,000,000 people, when its interests are of the most gigantic importance, when its modern problems of stupendous consequence are demanding prompt and virile action, when hundreds of important bills are pending, this hoary-headed reprobate rises up and strikes a posture of inscrutable wisdom and admonishes the world not to rush this sacred principle of unlimited 'freedom of debate.' The venerable age of this foolish precedent will not save it from the just charge of embecility."

Senator Owen cited the cloture rule in vogue in France, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Austria, Belgium, Denmark and other foreign countries, and concluded:

"Every one of the 48 States of the union, while permitting freedom of debate, has set us the wise and virtuous precedent of permitting the control of the majority. I remind every Senator in this body that in his own State his legislative assembly neither in the House or in the Senate does not permit a minority veto under the pretense of freedom of debate."

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Prominent Farmer Found With Skull Beaten to a Pulp.

Waycross, Ga., July 14.—With the skull beaten to a pulp, and other marks of violence evident, the body of Mack Spain, a prominent farmer, who has been missing from his home, 20 miles west of this place, for three weeks, was found today in a shallow pond near his farm. A discharged shot-gun lay nearby. No other evidence of the identity of the man's slayer was discovered. Spain was believed to have had a large quantity of money in his possession when he disappeared, none of which was found on his dead body today. He came to Georgia from North Carolina several years ago.

U. S. SHOULD MAKE ITS ARMOR PLATE

Secretary Daniels in Report Advocates Government Owned Factory

PLAN WOULD SAVE MILLIONS

Figures of Naval Experts Show Plan Would Save Uncle Sam $140 on Each Ton of the Product—More Than Million a Year.

Washington, July 14.—Naval experts figures showing that a government armor plate factory costing $8,466,000 would save $140 a ton on armor, or more than a million dollars net a year, were submitted to Congress today by Secretary Daniels. The Secretary's report was sent in response to a Senate resolution, and supplemented previous statements issued by him advocating a government owned armor plate factory.

Millions can be saved either by operating a government plant or by compelling competition among the private manufacturers, Mr. Daniels declared. Therefore he asked Congress to make a full, thorough and early investigation of the cost of an armor plate factory, and the cost of manufacturing armor plate in factories owned by concerns dependent upon government patronage.

Situation Reviewed.

Reviewing the situation in his report, the Secretary said the accepted plan had been that the Bethlehem, Carnegie and Midvale plants should be given the armor work at practically their own prices.

"This step having been taken," he said, "it clearly follows that the manufacturers themselves, convinced that one-third of the work is coming to them, without much reference to the price they may bid, have not overlooked the advantage of putting in bids practically of the same figure and at the same rate. They have argued that should one of them put in a bid much lower than the others the result would be that the other two firms would have to come down in their price to that of the lowest bidder in the eventual distribution of the work."

He explained that three European countries—France, Italy and Russia—have sought relief from the high cost of armor plate by the operation of government owned plants, while Japan has built two government factories. He found the same subject agitated in England, where many charges of monopolistic agreements and extortionate prices have been made.

The foreign manufacturers appear to have been able to keep —— a higher price for armor than those in the United States, he added.

"Although money for an armor plant was provided in an appropriation bill passed at the beginning of the second Roosevelt administration, after an investigation, the plant was never constructed. In consequence, according to Secretary Daniels, "the armor plate manufacturers were allowed to jump their prices from $346 a ton in 1906 to $420 a ton in 1907, and to keep at that figure till last year, when tney were advanced, under the excuse of increased expenses caused by the eight hour law, to $454 a ton."

As to the expense of a government plant and the saving to be thus accomplished, Mr. Daniels said:

"The cost of a plant capable of turning out 10,000 tons a year, which is about half of the armor needed on a two-battleship programme, is estimated by the chief of the bureau of ordnance at $8,466,000, and the cost of the armor at $314 a ton. The estimate of this officer is considerably in excess of the figures given the government by the last board which investigated the subject, but even at this estimated cost of he plant and the cost of $314 a ton, or armor plate, there would be effected a saving of $140 a ton, over the price now paid, that is $464 a ton.

"On 10,000 tons the government would save $1,400,000 per annum. Deducting 4 per cent as the interest on the money used in building the plant there still remains a net saving to the government of $1,061,360. In the case of the 20,000 ton plant, which it is estimated can produce armor at $279 a ton, the net saving is $3,048,462. Surely this is on the face of it, an economy well worth the serious consideration of Congress. If a committee, with expert assistance is given the authority to get at the exact cost of constructing a factory and of making armor plate, it is believed the estimates for both will be reduced. Experience has demonstrated the wisdom and economy of manufacturing guns and powder in government factories."

Today's report will be followed by a further presentation of the result of Secretary Daniels' inquiries.

RELEASED ON BOND

Wealthy Atlanta Widow Charged With Poisoning Her Husband

Atlanta, Ga., July 14.—Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, arrested yesterday on charge of poisoning her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, Atlanta capitalist, four years ago, today was released by Judge W. D. Ellis, in Superior Court here on $6,250 bond. The petition for her release was presented after attorneys for the accused widow had waived preliminary hearing, and she had been bound over to the grand jury for investigation on charges of murder.

Mrs. Crawford today continued to protest her innocence of the crime of which she is charged, declaring that criminal proceedings had been instituted against her merely to influence civil litigation now being waged over the $250,000 estate left by her husband. Heirs at law of the dead man, in a suit instituted soon after his demise, ask that the will, leaving the major portion of the estate to Mrs. Crawford, be set aside.

THE TARIFF FIGHT POSTPONED

Date of Formal Opening of War in the Senate Changed From Wednesday to Thursday—Wool Schedule Discussed.

Washington, July 14.—Formal opening of the tariff fight on the floor of the Senate was postponed today from Wednesday until Thursday. This was done to enable the Finance committee to complete its report on the Underwood-Simmons bill, the presentation of which will mark the beginning of forensic hostility on the floor. In the meantime the Senate will listen to a speech tomorrow by Senator Thomas, of Colorado, on the relation of the tariff to the panic of the nineties.

As a prelude to the long debate which is to follow, Senator McCumber today addressed the Senate in opposition to the bill, speaking, he said, from a farmer's point of view. As another preliminary Senator Smoot introduced his proposed substitute for the wool schedule. The substitute proposes rates based directly upon the report of the tariff board, and adopting in each grade the lowest rate. The schedule is lower than that introduced last year by Senator Penrose as a substitute for the Underwood wool bill, and is the lowest of all wool schedules ever introduced by a Republican Senator.

As a substitute for free raw wool, the Smoot schedule divides raw wool into three grades and establishes rates ranging from 7 to 16 cents per pound. Class 1 wools, made dutiable at 16 cents per pound if scoured, and 15 cents per pound on cleaned content, if imported in the grease, included merino wools, imported usually from Buenos Ayres, New Zealand, Egypt, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Russia, Great Britain, Morocco, down combing wools and Canada long wools.

Wools of class 2, made dutiable at 14 cents per pound, if scoured and 13 cents on cleaned content in the grease, include all hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and Leicester, Cotswold, Lincolnshire and similar long combing wools of English blood. Wools of class 3, dutiable at seven cents per pound, if imported in their natural state, and 14 cents if scoured, include Donskoi, native South American, Cordova, Valparaiso, native Smyrna, Russian camel's hair, Bagdad, China lamb, Castel Branco and all such wools usually imported from Turkey, Greece and Syria. A drawback of 99 per cent is provided for on wools of class 3, used in the United States for the manufacture of carpets, druggets, mats, floor rugs, hassocks, art squares etc., which would make carpet wools practically free of duty. The duty on wools or hair on the skin would be one cent less per pound in every case, than on the wool content.

On manufactured goods and wools advanced beyond the natural state, the rates of the Smoot bill are correspondingly lower than present rates.

The schedule contains a provision that the rates on raw wool should be effective November 1st, 1913, and on wool manufactures January 1st, 1914.

SHIP'S CREW RESCUED

After Manning Pumps Four Days and Nights During Hurricane

New Orleans, July 14.—After manning the pumps for foir days and nights without rest in a hurricane, Captain John A. Olivera and ten sailors were rescued almost exhausted from the schooner William A. Groza, July 1st by the German steamer Ozage, two hours before the disabled vessel sank 700 miles off the Azores. The crew was landed in New Orleans today from Ozage, arriving last night from Shields.

Captain Olivera said he sailed from New Bedford, Mass., June 19th, with flour and lumber bound for Cape Verde. They were hit by a hurricane that caused the schooner's seams to open.

The crew subsisted on sea biscuit and water as it was impossible to do any cooking during the storm. The schooner was the property of John Silva, of New Bedford, and was not insured.

One of the sailors, suffering from exposure or exhaustion, was hurried to the Charity Hospital. Attendants say he will recover.

The shipping commissioner turned the crew over to the Associated Charities as the members were without funds.

PREVENT STRIKE BY ARBITRATION

Eighty Thousand Railroaders Agree on Armistice Until Wednesday Night

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

President Wilson and Congressional Leaders Aid in Adjustment of Wage Dispute Between Officials and Employes

Washington, July 14.—Representatives of the 80,000 conductors and trainmen of Eastern railways, who have voted to strike for higher wages, and managing officers of the railroads, agreed at the White House today to submit their differences to arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands-Clayton act, which President Wilson and Congressional leaders promised to make law by tomorrow night. In the meantime, no strike will be declared officials of the employes brotherhood agreeing to an armistice until Wednesday night.

Tie-up Averted

This victory for arbitration over the strike was the result of a two-hour conference at the White House between President Wilson and Congressional leaders, both Republicans and Democrats, the President and managers of the railroads and representatives of the brotherhood of trainmen and conductors. The agreement not only averted temporarily at least, the strike which threatened to tie-up railroad traffic generally in the East, but smoothed out differences of opinion that had arisen in both houses as to the composition of the board of mediation, and provided a permanent commission to deal with railroad disputes.

Way Cleared for Action

The pathway was cleared for prompt action in both houses, Senator Kern telephoning from the White House to have the Senate adjourn until tomorrow, instead of Thursday as contemplated, and Representative Clayton announcing that he would move to take from the Speaker's table his bill, to which amendment in conformity with the Newlands bill in the Senate would be attached.

The President later said that he would sign a measure such as agreed upon and described the conference as "simple and satisfactory."

Seth Low the Spokesman

Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation who had been instrumental in bringing the railroad heads and labor leaders together, acted as spokesman for both sides, relating to the President the details of the legislative situation that had arisen in the attempt to provide a substitute for the Erdman act. The original board of arbitration provided under that act was independent of any government department, but one of its members—the commissioner of labor—had since been included under the Department of Labor, where his duties had been increased so that only a portion of his time could be given to labor disputes.

The bill introduced in the House by Representative Clayton, chairman of the Judiciary committee, originally was identical with that introduced in the Senate by Senator Newlands, but had been amended at the instance of Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor, who wished the arbitration board to consist of nine members who were to be under the jurisdiction of his department.

Newlands' Bill Favored

At today's conference, however, Secretary Wilson, while still expressing his preference for the amended Clayton bill, announced he would not insist upon it, and an agreement was immediately reached to put through the Newlands bill, of which both parties to the controversy had previously expressed their approval with two minor provisions.

The Clayton amendments to the Newlands bill concern the elimination of an inconsistency as to the place for the filing of papers in the various hearings and inserts a proviso that no mandatory process of any court should oblige an employe to work against his will. While this is conceded as having been taken care of by the constitution it nevertheless was placed in the Erdman act to avoid constitutional objections of a technical nature and had been inadvertently omitted by the framers of the Clayton-Newlands bill.

Board of Mediation

The perfected bill will create the United States board of mediation to be composed of a commission of mediation and conciliation, appointed by the President with the consent of the Senate with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years and not more than two other officials of the government already appointed by the President, with the consent of the Senate, who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board. There would also be an assistant commissioner with a salary of $5,000 authorized to act in the commissioner's absence.

For the settlement of controversies as they might arise the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three, to be elected with the help of the board of mediation and conciliation wherever necessary. The latter board would pass upon any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the Federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

President Wilson expressed his gratification after the conference, that an agreement had been reached on disputed points. He declared that while the Erdman originally contemplated a controversy between a single railroad and its employes the scope had now been widened so as to deal with a series of railroads. He referred to the suggestions made as just and reasonable and saw no reason, he said, why Congress should not act upon them

OLIVER'S PROSPECTS POOR

Senator Simmons Still Opposes Reidsville Man—Nine Candidates for Mebane Office—Apex and Hickory.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The friends of Jas. T. Oliver did not get much encouragement while here in the interest of the Reidsville man's candidacy for the postmastership there.

Some of them seem to think that Oliver may get a recess appointment, and thus evade the opposition of Senator Simmons, who, it is said, has not changed his mind in the slightest degree. But, unless Postmaster General Burleson changes his mind, the recess appointment will be impossible. High officials at the Postoffice Department say that Oliver's name will not be sent to the President as long as Simmons opposes him. If they maintain this attitude the recess appointment would be an impossibility.

Besides Cheek, Harris and Ferrall, six other candidates have entered the race for the Mebane postmastership to succeed Sam White. They are William Satterfield, George E. Holt, J. S. Vincent, Jas. T. Dick, H. E. Wilkinson and James A. Isley.

Major Stedman said tonight that he did not have the faintest idea whom he would recommend. He said, however, he would make a recommendation within a week, the Postoffice Department having requested the Fifth District Congressman to name a man within that time.

Percy J. Olive, of Apex, is here looking after the interest of his candidate for the postoffice at Apex. It could not be learned whom Mr. Olive recommended to Representative Pou for the Apex job, nor who the candidates are. It is rumored that a man by the name of Pate and also a Mr. Sears are candidates for the place. But, whether Olive favors either of these gentlemen is not known. The commission of the Republican incumbent expires within 30 days.

Representative Webb was notified today by the Postoffice Department that the name of A. C. Link, whom Webb recommended for appointment as postmaster of Hickory, went to the President today. His nomination, it is expected, will be sent to the Senate one day this week. P. R. A.

MULHALL DIVULGES STORY OF INTRIGUE

Unique Witness Startles Lobby Investigators With Remarkable Testimony

DISPLAYS PERFECT MEMORY

Hundreds of Letters Involving Prominent Personages Introduced Before Probing Committee. The Evidence.

Washington, July 14.—Martin M. Mulhall, professed field agent, strike-breaker, lobbyist and political worker for the National Association of Manufacturers, continued today his remarkable story before the Senate Lobby Investigation Committee. Mulhall was on the stand for six hours. In that time nearly 600 letters, telegrams, and scraps of memoranda was identified by him with hardly more than a glance. He remembered, apparently, the first names of members of Congress, of lesser politicians, of labor leaders and underlings of secretaries to Congressmen, and of all the men he had worked with through a year of most active campaigning in many parts of the country.

His performance seemed so remarkable to lawyers present that they sat all through a long day intently watching the witness, and listening closely to the tales, and every word that the witness uttered in the brief cross examination that accompanied some of them.

Friendly Agreement Reached.

The threatened rupture between the Senate and House committees apparently ended today with a friendly agreement subscribed to by both sides. Under this arrangement the Senate committee will finish its examination of Mulhall before he is turned over to the House; it will also put in the record all the Mulhall correspondence it cares to. Copies of all the letters and memoranda put in the record will be furnished every member of the Garrett committee, and they will have ample time to study the case before they get Mulhall.

In the meantime, James E. Emery, a Washington attorney for the National Association of Manufacturers, who is under subpoena by both committees, will be allowed to appear in the House wing with papers he was ordered to produce. Chairman Overman said tonight that all the difficulties that looked so formidable for a few days had been smoothed out, and that each committee could now proceed in its own way without conflict.

Mulhall's Political Activities.

The Senate committee devoted today largely to reading into the record the tale of Mulhall's political activities. There was an occasional reference to strikes in which the "lobbyist" had figured, and an allusion now and then to the inside workings of labor unions, but for the most part it was a story of politics as Mulhall played the game.

Mulhall's correspondence told of the efforts to re-elect former Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, and defeat the present Representative from that district, Daniel J. McGillicuddy. Littlefield was to be supported by the National Association of Manufacturers because of his stand against labor legislation. Mulhall said on cross examination that he had been told that $60,000 was spent in that campaign.

Mulhall's letters went into detail concerning the campaign he made in Maryland to beat former Congressman Pearre, of Cumberland. Pearre was the author of an "injunction bill" and Mulhall and other agents went out to get his political scalp.

Just before the committee adjourned the letters began to show Mulhall's activities after Marshal Cushing, the secretary of the association, with whom he had corresponded so long, had resigned.

"Cushing resigned," Mulhall declared, "because he said no self-respecting politician could report on lobby work."

Mulhall said Cushing resigned in the Spring of 1907 to the late James W. VanCleave, the president of the association, who wanted full reports of all his work. The committee read several letters from Mulhall to VanCleave in which the "lobbyist" showed that he didn't care so much for Cushing after the secretary left the association.

Some of the letters read earlier in the day showed that Mulhall had been known to the late Vice President Jas. S. Sherman, who in 1907 was chairman of the National Congressional committee.

In a letter he wrote on July 11th, 1907, to Mr. Sherman, Mulhall said he was going West, and would call upon James S. Watson, of Indiana, and that he intended to look up members of the organization in that district and get them to do some active work for Watson.

"I will pledge you before starting there," the letter said, "that we will be able to land Mr. Watson again in the next House."

On July 2nd Mr. Sherman on paper of the Republican committee, wrote Mulhall as follows:

"My Dear Colonel:

"I am glad that you are still interested in political, as well as economical work, and I am glad to bespeak for you to our friends a cordial reception.

"While you are not employed by the Republican Congressional committee, nor were you employed during the last campaign, you did render us very material assistance, and I found you at all times reliable, trustworthy and effective."

In the House.

On the House side today the Garrett committee heard one witness, Representative George W. Fairchild, of New York, and recessed for an indefinite period to take up the study

ATHLETICS SHOOT THE CHUTE

Dropped Third Straight to Detroit Yesterday—Senators Won From Naps—Russell Won for Chigo—Browns Won.

For the first time since the early days of the present season, and the second time since the season started April 10th, the Athletics Sunday and yesterday dropped three games in a row, the Detroit Tigers taking a double-header Sunday and a single bill yesterday. Ty Cobb was retired from the game in the final inning for disputing the umpire's decision on a catch made by the Georgia Peach.

The Washington Nationals defeated Cleveland in a closely played game, score 4 to 3, Boehling being called on to horseshoe the game in the late stages after Groom and Engle had fallen by the wayside. The game was won in the final inning on an error coupled with McBride's triple and Ainsmith's sacrifice fly.

Red Russell made good with a gold face cap "G" in yesterday's game between Chicago and Boston, the White Sox winning the game 8 to 0. One lone single by Hooper in the third, was the portion that Reddy allowed the world champions, and only one member of the Stahl tribe reached third base. Russell also figured in the winning by punching the pellet at opportune times.

The St. Louis Browns made 11 runs off 12 hits in yesterday's game with the New York Yankees, winning by the score of 1 to 11, while the Chancemen with six hits were only able to put one runner across the plate.

Athletics Drop Three Straight.

Detroit, July 14.—Detroit made three straight from Philadelphia, winning 9 to 8 today in a heavy hitting game. Crawford's mighty bating was the feature. All the misplays figured in the run-making. Cobb was put out of the game in the ninth for protesting a decision by Umpire Hildebrand. With Daly on first, by virtue of a base on balls, Baker hit a liner to short center. Cobb raced in and apparently made the catch right on the grass but the umpire ruled that Cobb tropped the ball.

Detroit	301	300 011	9 13 3

Bender, J. Bush and Lapp; Hall, DuBuc and Stanage; time 2:25; umpires O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

Senators Won in Ninth.

Cleveland, July 14.—Washington defeated Cleveland 4 to 3 today, winning in the ninth on Turner's error, McBride's triple and Ainsmith's sacrifice fly. Manager Griffith used three pitchers. Six base on balls off the Washington pitchers, however, enabled Cleveland to score three runs with the assistance of Morgan's error.

Washington	010	010 002	4 6 1

Falkenberg and Carisch; Groom, Engle, Boehling and Henry and Ainsmith; time 2:15; umpires McGreevy and Connolly.

"Red" Russell Made Good.

Chicago, July 14.—"Red" Russell, Chicago's Texas recruit pitcher, was almost invincible today, holding Boston to one hit, a single over second by Hooper in the third. He and his team-mates bunched hits off Foster and shut out the visitors 8 to 0. Russell never was in danger, only one of Stahl's men reaching third. He walked one man, hit two and struck out four. The support behind Russell was scientific.

Chicago	000	012 50x	8 14 1

Foster, Mosely and Carrigan; Russell and Schalk; time 1:43; umpires Evans and Sheridan.

Twelve Hits; Eleven Runs.

St. Louis, July 14.—New York used three pitchers today in an effort to stop the batting of the locals who registered 11 runs off 12 hits while Chance's men accumulated one run from six hits. Both teams played well in the field.

New York	000	000 001	1 6 0
St. Louis	322	400 00x	11 12 0

Warhop, Schulz, Clark, Caldwell and Smith and Hanson; Baumgardner, Schmidt and Agnew and McAllister; time 2:05; umpires Egan and Dineen.

The cases wherein B. F. Hawkins charges Officer Frank George with perjury and Officer George charges Hawkins with a similar offense, which were to have been tried yesterday before Justice Harriss, were continued until tomorrow at the request of the lawyers interested, so they had to be in Superior Court.

Chicago, July 14.—Pitcher Leifield was released to Atlanta by the Cubs today. Leifield has not been in form this season.

LARRY CHAPPELLE SOLD

Milwaukee's Sensational Outfielder Goes to Chicago White Sox

Chicago, July 14.—Larry Chappelle, the sensational outfielder of the Milwaukee team of the American Association, was sold to the Chicago White Sox today. For him President Comiskey gave Outfielder John Beall, a catcher whose name was not made public and a "cash consideration." Chappelle is to report at once. He has been batting around .350 and fielding with the best of them. Practically every club in the major leagues bid for him.

Fine Concerts Sunday.

The largest audience of the season heard the splendid concerts at Lumina Sunday afternoon and night given by the fine orchestra of 13 pieces. The orchestra received numerous encores which were responded to in the usual happy manner by Conductor John Kneisel and his obliging corps of musicians. An especially enjoyable feature was the rendition of "William Tell." According to the records of the Tidewater Power Company the actual number visiting the beach Sunday was 3,856, which is the largest number of visitors that the beach has had from Wilmington on any Sunday this Summer.

FLOODS IN OHIO.

Bridges Swept Away—Crops Devastated—Heavy Property Loss.

Zanesville, O., July 14.—Residents of Zanesville feared a repetition of the March floods today when heavy rains which started Sunday night, developed a cloudburst with a precipitation of 6.45 inches, less than half an inch below the rainfall which caused the March flood. More than 20 bridges were washed away, crops were ruined throughout this section, and the damage was estimated anywhere from $200,000 to half a million dollars.

The Muskingum river rose 14.6 inches in eight hours, but this evening the waters began to recede and the stage tonight is about five feet lower than the high water mark.

Thousands of acres in the lowlands of the county were under water, while in the city 50 houses were inundated to a depth of several feet. In the flood districts people found the water approaching their homes rapidly moved their furniture to upper floors.

Marietta, O., July 14.—Hundreds of horrified spectators gathered on the banks of the Muskingum here late this afternoon to witness high water sights, resulting from the cloudburst early today, saw William Kauf and Charles Raschen carried over the Murkingum dam in a row boat in which they attempted to cross the swollen stream. Raschen was drowned when they overturned, but Kauf was rescued.

"TAKE A HAND IN IT" SALE.

Sales Manager Griffith Starts Another Big One at Solky's.

Tomorrow one of the most sensational sales of merchandise the city has known opens up at J. M. Solky & Company's store under the management of Mr. "Printer's Ink" Griffith, who has managed several big sales in the city, notably the last big one of the Gaylord-Platt department store, where a sale is now on. The Star of Sunday carried a double-page announcement of the Solky firm and it aroused great interest wherever The Star was read. Such advertisements betoken something out of the ordinary in sales. When the doors open tomorrow it is expected that there will be a record-breaking rush for bargains. A large extra force of salespeople has been put on. Yesterday the store was closed and will be closed today so the huge stock can be gotten in shape for the multitudes.

WINNING EASY FOR GIANTS

Took Yesterday's Game from Tinker's Team—Phils Also Won—Pirates Broke Their String and Dodgers Won a Game

Joseph Tinker's collection of bric-a-brac, consisting mostly of former New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago players, made its second appearance at the Polo Grounds yesterday and made three more runs to add to their lone tally in Saturday's contest. However, the Giants bettered them by two runs, winning their 17th game out of 18 starts. "Rube" Benton was hit hard by the Giants and George Johnson, the Winnebago Brave, took his place in the fifth. Marquard was hit freely but tightened up in the pinches.

The Phils were victorious in a pitchers' battle between Rixey and Harmon, at Philadelphia yesterday, fast fielding by both teams featuring the game.

The winning string of the Pirates, which had gone for eight games, was rudely broken by the Boston Braves yesterday, the locals taking an easy victory from Pittsburgh.

After dropping ten games in a row, the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers came back and took yesterday's game from the Chicago Cubs, nine to two. Pierce and Overall were hammered to the four corners of the lot, Reulbach stopping the onslaught, but too late.

Giants Still Climbing

New York, July 14.—New York today defeated Cincinnati for the seventh straight time, score 5 to 3. The champions hammered Benton hard. Johnson replaced Benton in the fifth and after permitting Herzog to score on a wild pitch, held the locals to one hit. Marquard was hit rather freely but had good control.

They hammered Pierce and Overall, Ruelbach checking the onslaught after it was too late. Curtis pitcher eratic ball. He was almost unhittable, however. Twenty-four Chicago put-outs were decided among three men.

WITH THE MOVIES

The Grand is the much sought after place these days, because the people know they can revel in solid comfort, made so by many electric fans, always whirling, and can witness a big show. Yesterday's bill was a hummer, but there will be even more steam to today's show. One of those deliciously funny "Sweeney" films is a star today, being Selig's latest. It is "Sweeney and the Fairy." This well known character falls asleep and dreams that a fairy sends him a million dollars by parcel post. "A Dangerous Foe" is a Biograph on today and it is a superb comedy drama, with a Chinaman in the stellar role. There is still another bright and clever film in Edison's "Youthful Knight", which every child and every parents should see.

The Bijou Today.

The popular Bijou got another week under way yesterday in most glorious manner and promises to keep up the hot pace throughout the week, presenting each day one of the best bills ever seen in Wilmington. The star of today's swell bill will be "The Fate of Elizabeth." It is Selig's story of an attempt to suppress a risque novel. Some of those appearing in the film are Edwin Wallock, Rose Evans and Adrienne Kroell, well known artists. A great war drama is also a star today, the scenes being laid along the Mexican border, with Uncle Sam's troops playing the leading roles, of course. A great travel picture is Pathe's "Tour Through Touraine," which is one of the most interesting of all French subjects. Another delightful film on today is "Rhodes," showing scenes in Asiatic Turkey.

SOUTHERN GROCERS MEET.

Annual Convention to be Held at Charlotte This Week.

Mr. F. E. Hashagen will leave this afternoon for Charlotte to attend the annual convention of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association which meets in that city tomorrow. There are a number of other Wilmington jobbers who expect to attend. The association will be in session for three days, and there will be representatives in attendance from 16 Southern States. It is expected that the total number of visitors to the Queen City for he convention will be in the neighborhood of 1,000.

An interesting programme has been prepared for the convention which will be in session until Friday night, when it will be closed with an elaborate banquet at the Selwyn Hotel. The Greater Charlotte Club has made especial preparation for the entertainment of the jobbers while they are in Charlotte and nothing will be left undone that will make for their comfort.

RALEIGH TALKING RECALL

Propose Fight on Newly-elected Commissioners on Ground of Extravagance—New Concern to Wilmington

Raleigh, N. C., July 14.—Opposition to the new city commissioners started today talk of recall, asserting that they will have petitions ready for the signatures of citizens favoring recall by Wednesday, and insisting that they will have no trouble in getting 1,000 names enrolled, whereas, only 600 are necessary to require a recall election.

The charge that will be principally stressed in the recall petition, the leaders of the movement say, will be extravagance in salaries of clerks and more especially in the number of clerks. They charge that the commissioners are paying out $27,000 in salaries, whereas, under the aldermanic form the salaries amounted to only about $12,000. Mayor Johnson insists that there is nothing like that difference in the salary budget, but that every position created has been absolutely necessary and that the salaries have been as low as they could be to command competent men to fill them.

If actually launched, the movement for the recall will be more especially directed toward Commissioner of Public Safety King and Mayor James I. Johnson. However, the three commissioners have pretty generally agreed on the number of positions and salaries the commission has created. Friends of the administration insist that the movement for recall will not materialize.

Governor Craig has yielded to the importuning of friends and commenced to master the art of golf playing. He has played two games with very satisfactory results, although he says it is a great humiliation to him that he cannot put the balls where he wants them at will. It is believed that golfing will be a fine thing for him in bringing relief from his rheumatic and nervous troubles.

The Seaboard Air Line has 400 men and a great number of mules and machinery at work grading a big new freight yard here that embraces 45 acres just west of Pilot Mills, this being an extension of the Johnson street freight yards. The new tracks are "ladder tracks" and will greatly increase the equipment of the Seaboard here for handling and distributing freight.

The Wake county grand jury endorsed most heartily the movement of the county commissioners to erect a fine fireproof $200,000 Court House with modern jail on the top floor; and also the movement for establishing a county hospital to take the place of the present county home and farm. Both these enterprises are well under way with plans adopted and bids being asked for the Court House and with the site for the county hospital purchased and plans under consideration for the building, which is to be two stories, fireproof and thoroughly modern.

The ladies of the Church of the Good Shepherd have assumed the expense of providing suitable pews for the splendid new stone church that is nearing completion at a cost of upwards of $60,000. The pews are to be of oak with high gothic ends in perfect keeping with the general design of the church. They are to cost $2,500 and are to be delivered by December 15th, by which time the church will certainly be ready for occupancy.

THE THIN AND WEAK.

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To thin and weak the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., has a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

The large sale Druggist J. Hicks Bunting has had on Samose since they first introduced it in Wilmington and the wonderful results following its use have made them such enthusiastic believers in its great merits that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

When a gain in weight is noticed after Samose has been used for a week or ten days, and health has improved, and you notice yourself growing stronger, you certainly should feel more than satisfied with what you have received from the small cost of 50c.

LOCAL JUDGE HOLDS COURT

cessary. Judge Rountree said the jurors have a double duty: First, their duty is to society; and second, to the individual citizen. It is the duty of the grand jury to bring indictments against those whom sufficient evidence, no mere rumors, reports or suspicion, is disclosed to justify conviction. Judge Rountree stated that if after examining the witnesses whose names appear on the back of the bill of indictment and they know of more evidence that would tend to aid the accused, it is their duty to get it. The accused himself has no right to be heard before the grand jury. The grand jury, Judge Rountree said, has no right to bring an indictment unless the members think that the evidence on the one side that is heard would justify a verdict of guilty. If they do not consider the evidence sufficient to justify them in finding a verdict of guilty, if they were sitting as a petit jury, then it becomes their duty to find not a true bill.

The grand jury, he said, is clothed with inquisitorial powers. He said that the great trouble in North Carolina was not the failure of the courts to give adequate punishment, but rather that there is no adequate means of detecting crime by public officials. Judge Rountree said that he regarded the maintenance of law and order the highest duty of any authority. This duty is encumbent on all officials.

He remarked that this duty was not performed when private citizens have to form a law and order league and go down in their pockets and do those things which the authorities should do in the enforcement of the law.

It appears to Judge Rountree that there has been a decided change for the better in conditions in the community with the exception of a few acts of violence. He remarked that he thought that an effort had been made to enforce the laws by public authority, both city and county, during the past few months and that it is having its effect.

He reiterated that there is a serious defect in the government and society when citizens have to form themselves into a body to do the things that the public officials should do.

In the matter of presentments, Judge Rountree said that it was the duty of the grand jury to make them not on reports or rumors, but from knowledge gained from evidence or personal observation of any member of the grand jury. He adverted to the fact that if any member of the grand jury knows of any crime against society that has not been taken cognizance of by the courts it is his dity to present the matter to his colleagues to the end that an investigation of the matter may be made.

Mode of Procedure

Judge Rountree next told the grand jury the mode of procedure for a citizen in getting a matter before the body. He said that the jury should not allow private persons to intrude themselves on the jury to give information, as he had been informed had been done on occasions heretofore. If any one has a matter to bring to the attention of the grand jury he should first impart this information to the solicitor. If no action is taken by that official the case may then be taken up with the foreman of the grand jury. And in case the foreman does not see fit to take action then there is still a course left open to be pursued, the person making the complaint can go before a magistrate and secure a warrant and an investigtion will be made by a subsequent grand jury. Judge Rountree evidently had heard that in the past many persons have sought a hearing before the grand jury in order to present matters that more properly should have been brought up by the individuals in a magistrate's court. Whether he had this in mind or not, it is nevertheless true that this has been the practice to some extent in this county.

Judge Rountree told the jurors that they should not let anyone attempt to influence them in the investigation of any matters that may come before them.

The duties of the grand jury might be summed up under three heads, he said: First, investigation of matters brought before the body by the solicitor; second, investigation of matters that may come to them by knowledge from evidence brought out in testimony before the body; third, investigation of matters that may come to the attention of the body from observation of members of the jury.

Election Frauds

In pointing out some of the crimes against the peace and dignity of the State, Judge Rountree laid particular emphasis on the corrupt practices act passed at the last session of the Legislature. The General Assembly passed a general law covering the State, he said, and in addition a special act was gotten through for New Hanover county. He had not been able to get a copy of the law, owing to delay in printing, and therefore was not in position to talk to the grand jury as to its provisions. However, Representative Kellum had stated that he expected to have a copy here by the latter part of the week and he would then turn it over to the jurors for their information. If the grand jury desires any advice on the provisions of the law, he said, they can get it from the solicitor or the court. Judge Rountree said that an election should be the expression of the people unbribed and unbought, and it is in theory. If bought with whiskey, money or promise of office an election cannot properly be said to be an expression of the people.

Libel and Slander

Judge Rountree also laid special emphasis on the law as regards libel and slander, stating that the jury should give particular attention to investigation of offenses of this character. He said that he did not know but that there was too much talk and writing about private citizens.

Crimes of Violence

Judge Rountree declared that there is entirely too much crime of violent character in this community. The people seem to regard too lightly burglary and homicide. He expressed regret that one or more murders in this community in recent years in which no one was apprehended or charged with the crime. He told the grand jury that it was the duty of the body to look into these cases and see if the guilty persons can be brought to justice. Burglary and homicide are too frequent in this community, he said. There is too much loafing in the community. Some one has wisely said that idleness is the mother of crime, and this, said Judge Rountree, may be the cause of so much crime of the violent character in Wilmington.

Must Observe Secrecy

That much information has leaked out from the grand jury room in advance of any definite action, in the past, seems to be about as well known to Judge Rountree as to quite a lot of other people, for he remarked in his charge that it is simply astonishing how few people in this community regard the oath of a grand juror to keep secret the deliberations of the body. He said that the grand jurors are not even at liberty to say that they had a particular matter up for consideration. You will allow no one to question you as to your acts on the grand jury, he said. You should not tell anything that is going on before you. If you do, you are guilty of perjury.

The charge lasted for 35 minutes and was read by Judge Rountree. Mr. Geo. W. Ward was then sworn in as the officer in charge of the grand jury. The body retired and began its work.

Holly Case Friday

It was agreed between counsel for the defendant and State that the case against J. C. Holly, charged with arson, will be taken up Friday morning. Judge Rountree stated that he had examined the bill of indictment and in his opinion it was defective. He said that he did not think the defendant could be tried for arson on the bill of indictment, but that it was good for a misdemeanor. The solicitor thought it was properly drawn. The court will hear the attorneys this morning on the question. If it is decided that the bill was improperly drawn a new one will be drawn and sent to the grand jury. Holly has been in jail three years. He was arrested on the morning of the fire that gutted the Rock Springs Hotel, of which he was proprietor. Edward Cromwell, his ward, lost his life in the fire. Holly was tried for the murder of the boy by poisoning. He was found guilty at the first trial and sentenced to be electrocuted. Granted a new trial by Supreme Court, the second hearing resulted in a mistrial. Upon affidavit of Solicitor Shaw the case was then removed to Pender county, where it was tried last year, the defendant being acquitted. A bill of indictment charging arson had already been brought in against him in this county, so he was held in jail pending trial on this charge. It was claimed that Holly murdered Cromwell for life insurance to the amount of $2,500, made payable to Holly only a few days before the fire. The State contended that the building was set on fire to hide the crime and also in order to get insurance on the household and kitchen furniture, most of which, it is alleged, had been removed to Wayne county a few days before the fire. C. D. Weeks and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., appear for Holly, while Brooke G. Empie, Esq., appears with the solicitor.

Court Hours

In fixing the hours of court, Judge Rountree asked the pleasure of the members of the bar and petit jurors. It was decided to open court at 9:30 A. M., and continue until 2 P. M., then adjourn until the following day. It is thought that more can be accomplished at one long session than could be done at two short sessions, besides, the weather is most too hot to spend the entire day in the court room. Judge Rountree announced that these hours would be observed until further notice.

Cases Disposed Of

Following the charge to the grand jury the court was busy for an hour or more in calling over the docket. Rufus Harrison entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny. The case was left open for judgment. In the cases against Bailey Johnson, Sam Bessent, Floyd Gurganus, Tom Turner, each charged with abandonment, alias caplas was the entry. Arley Carter, a young white man of Delgado, who was up at the last term of court for abandonment, prayer for judgment being continued on his promise to live with and provide for his family, reported in court yesterday that he had complied with the agreement and asked to be discharged. He promised to continue to live with his family and provide for them, whereupon Judge Rountree suggested to the solicitor that the defendant be discharged. This disposition of the case was made.

A case against Lila Gouchy, a white woman, charged with keeping a disorderly house, was continued. Nol pros with leave was taken in a case against W. G. Baldwin, charged with assault with deadly weapon. Baldwin is in the penitentiry serving a term for assault on a colored woman with a shotgun. A case against Gussie Greer, for keeping a disorderly house, was continued. Nol pros with leave was taken in the case against Jean Harris, charged with violating the prohibition law, and similar disposition was made in the case against Alex. Nash, charged with larceny.

Arrested for Larceny.

Son Evans, a young colored boy, was arrested yesterday afternoon by the police on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $2.60, a pocketbook and a knife from D. M. Turner, colored. He was placed in the city prison and will be tried before the Recorder this morning. He claims that the police got the wrong one, and that the stealing was done by other negro boys.

Plans School Building.

Plans for a handsome school building at Roseboro are being prepared by Mr. Henry E. Bonitz, the architect. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 and will be one of the handsomest in any small town in this section of the State. Work on the structure will begin in a short time.

CURED TERRIBLE HUMOR ON FACE

Could Not Go On Street Without Veil. Tells What Resinol Did For Her.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1912.—"In December 1908, my face became sore. I tried everything that was recommended, and my face got worse instead of better. I spent over $100 and got no benefit. The face and nose were very red and the eruption had the appearance of small boils, which itched me terribly. I cannot tell you how terrible my face looked—all I can say is, it was dreadful, and I suffered beyond description.

"I have not gone on the street any time since 1908 without a veil, until now. Just four months ago a friend persuaded me to give Resinol a trial. I have used three cakes of Resinol Soap and less than a jar of Resinol Ointment, and my face is perfectly free from any eruption, and my skin is as clear and clean as any child's." (Signed) Mrs. M. J. Bateman, 4256 Viola St.

Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, but if you have any skin trouble it will cost you nothing to try them. Send to Dept. 14-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a free sample of each.

The breezes at Wrightsville Beach make life worth living.

A man who argues with Big Business is considered a pitiable sophist if he cannot talk in dollars and cents.

If the Bulgars have done all the other allies say they have we take back part of what we said about Turkey.

So far as we can see, nobody seems to be objecting to Bailey, Dortch and Winston for the three big Eastern plums.

People make a mountain out of a mole hill when they happen to own the mole hill and offer it to the public as a terraced lot.

By the time the Senate and the House get through jerking Col. M. M. Mulhall this way and that he will wish he had kept his mouth shut.

While a Democratic administration is sifting the National grist there need be surprise that a Mulhall or a Lamar is found to be bobbing around in the sifter.

Wilmington is a wide open town except that the lid is on so far as alcoholic drinks are concerned. The city is broad in one particular and narrow in another.

If all the investigations we are making these days are justified by the facts, there must be a condition that reflects no credit on the capacity of the American people to govern themselves.

No grass grows under the feet of patriots these piping Democratic days. Soon as the postmaster at Mebane was sidetracked, up sprang three applicants for the job; and no doubt by this time there are three dozen.

A dispatch says: "Americans are leaving Mexico." Mexico is to be congratulated. The usual rule would be for Americans to bring Mexico with them. Probably they had to leave before their plans were accomplished.

Mr. John Wannamaker, the 75-year-old multimillionaire merchant of Philadelphia, worked all day Saturday, which was his birthday. When a man 75 years old, able to get along without it, keeps right on his job, young men who can't afford to idle their time away ought to get busy while they have a chance.

Queen Mary, of England, is charmed with the tango dance. She dances herself, and after witnessing the tango she could observe nothing in it lacking in grace or propriety. The probability is that those who don't or can't dance see it from another angle. Isn't it a matter of taste, after all? De gustibus non est disputandum.

Investigation at the Virginia State Home reveals the fact that a negro who is permitted to carry a pistol, is an overseer of the white girls at the home. "The girls have a great deal of trouble, escape whenever they get the chance, and are not to be trusted," says a dispatch. We shouldn't wonder. While we talk about political reforms we had better start some movement to inaugurate social reforms and social justice. Close investigations in various States reveal an immense amount of stupidity as well as incompetency in the management of affairs.

THE STATE'S OPPORTUNITIES

The freight rate question is about one of the smallest of the big problems that North Carolina has to deal with, but it is a good sign that we are getting our eyes open to that extent. When we do that we can begin to see where we have fallen down on our opportunities.

It has been North Carolina's opportunity to ask for an export rate on her manufactured products to a North Carolina port. The manufacturing and producing interests haven't asked for it. That opportunity has been neglected. The port of Wilmington has not asked for export rates on any commodity produced in North Carolin. We have neglected that opportuity. The vast production of North Carolina switches on to the through lines and goes to other ports to be handled for export, foreign or coastwise. We blame the railroads. Did we ever stop to blame ourselves for not waking up to the fact that we are way behind the times? We may think we are not but we are.

The fact is, Wilmington has not waked up to the fact that she can make herself absolutely necessary to the interior as an ocean gateway. The manufacturing and commercial cities of the interior have never figured on this ocean gateway for the purpose of opening a way for them to the domestic markets and the markets of the world.

We wake up suddenly and hit out to rightfield and get caught out. We fan out. We strike out. The score is against us. We come again and get a goose egg in the score. The fact is, the North Carolina team is not playing together. It is a far cry from Wilmington to Charlotte and still more so to Asheville, when the fact is the community interests is close. Discriminatory freight rates hit all quarters of the State from the seashore to the mountains.

That is not the case with Virginia points from Roanoke to Norfolk. They have secured a deep water port at Norfolk. Georgia points have secured freight advantages on account of water rates at Savannah. Jacksonville is inviting the navy there because of her deep water. She did not have it till every influence in the State got behind a 30-foot channel for the St. John's river. The Florida interests secured a breakwater six miles long on the St. John's bar, and it has done the work for Jacksonville. The 30-foot channel to Jacksonville is almost completed. Wilmington could have had a four or five-mile breakwater at the mouth of the Cape Fear. She hasn't got it. That is an opportunity neglected by the port of Wilmington. North Carolina couldn't see that it should have demanded a deep water port at Wilmington. That was a great opportunity neglected.

North Carolina thinks deep water is for the benefit of Wilmington, and that an independent steamship line, or more water competition, is of concern to Wilmington. The State is neglecting a great opportunity to realize that North Carolina ought to be more interested than Wilmington. Wilmington is concerned, of course, but North Carolina is more concerned. It neglects the opportunity to see it that way. That is the reason discriminatory freight rates are charged in North Carolina. It is because North Carolina has it doped out wrong. North Carolina is putting up the silly plea that short-haul rates should be the same rates as long-haul rates. The railroads might reverse it and make long-haul rates the same as short-haul rates. Then we would see where we are.

North Carolina ought to quit discussing academic questions and get down to brass tacks. We ought to abandon school boy ideas about the transportation problem, and fight for a five-mile breakwater at the mouth of the Cape Fear. We have neglected the opportunity to demand that twenty years ago. If Wilmington and Southport are not going to fight for a breakwater at the bar so North Carolina can have a deep water port, the balance of the State should not neglect the opportunity to do so.

Both Senators and all the ten Representatives of North Carolina in Congress are just as much concerned in a deep water ocean gateway as are Senator Simmons and Congressman Godwin. They are neglecting an opportunity if they cannot see it that way. They are neglecting the opportunity of observing what a deep water port has done for Virginia to the disadvantage of North Carolina.

CHARLOTTE A DISTRIBUTING POINT.

The Charlotte News reminds us that Charlotte is a distributing point. Of course it is. There is nothing new in that statement. It is not a contention. It is a statement of an actual fact. Charlotte is a natural distributing point into a large territory and so admirably is Charlotte situated as the commercial centre of a section of vast productive and manufacturing activity that its advantages as a centre of distribution is recognized as a matter of logical deduction. That simply is the reason why so many of the largest concerns are distributing from Charlotte. Their location there is logical. Obviously, Charlotte is the gateway to a territory that has its equal nowhere in the South. We say this, because the Charlotte News says:

"The Remedy Sales Corporation, organized to exploit and sell Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, had an all-day session here yesterday—a continuation of a meeting begun Friday night. There were present at the meeting Messrs. S. O. Ellington, of Fayetteville, president of the new corporation; Mr. John Underwood, mayor of Fayetteville, a stockholder; Mr. Guy V. Barnes, of Kittrell, former owner of the right of sales of the Remedy; Mr. J. P. Lindsay, vice president of the company; Mr. J. C. Armstrong, of Nashville, Tenn., sales manager; F. F. Flowers, of the law firm of Flowers & Jones, secretary and treasurer. The most vital point of interest decided upon, as far as Charlotte is concerned, was that this city is to be the distributing point for Mrs. Person's Remedy. Several cities were under consideration, but Charlotte was deemed best—because, as Bob Taylor said about 'Dixie' in the lectures he and his brother gave on 'Dixie and Yankee Doodle'—'it is the best.' For its central position, business, thrift, push, energy and growth, Charlotte was voted the logical place for the new Remedy Company to establish its sales depot, the place chosen one of the brick buildings on South Poplar between Trade and Fourth streets. The list of stockholders in the new company to handle the famous Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy represents all parts of the State. The Remedy is to be sold in every State in the Union. The remarkable woman who discovered it and whose name it bears, is having a monument erected to her work and memory that she dreamed of but did not live to see realized."

While the Mrs. Pearson Remedy Company is a North Carolina concern, it is National in its business: It is a company of local importance but national in its reach, but its selection of Charlotte as a distributing point is but a coincidence with the action of many of the largest of American manufacturing concerns.

With such a distributing centre as we know Charlotte to be, it behooves Wilmington to become the port of entry for the large distribution controlled by that North Carolina gate city. There is no earthly reason why most of the distribution from Charlotte should not come by way of North Carolina's ocean gateway at Wilmington.

LESSONS FROM FOREIGN FARMERS.

While Americans fancy themselves superior in every particular to the people of every other Nation, we are finding out that we can take lessons from about every Nation on the globe. The commission visiting Europe to inquire into agricultural conditions and investigate their system of farm credits is finding out that the foreigners are setting us the pace in agricultural methods as well as the banking system best calculated to promote the world's greatest interest—that of providing the food to feed the world's millions of people.

The commission finds that even Ireland's farming interests are better conserved than those of the United States. Not only are the farming methods of Ireland superior, but the self-help system among Irish farmers is reported to be worthy of emulation in this country. There is admirable co-operation in Ireland, a thing almost totally absent here.

The one thing the matter with this country is the egotism consequent upon not knowing about what other people are doing with less resources than we possess. It is time for us to get our eyes open, instead of fancying that we are in the lead.

THE COLOR LINE.

This from an exchange—it could come from almost any exchange:

"White man, vagrancy; prayer for judgment continued upon payment of costs. Negro, vagrancy; committed to jail for thirty days, to be worked on the roads. White youth, vagrancy; prayer for judgment continued upon payment of costs. Negro, vagrancy; committed to jail for thirty days, to be worked on the roads."

We submit that there is no color line in vagrancy, and "thirty days" ought to be entered up against every white loafer with as much regularity as it is against the colored variety. It is good, wholesome medicine for any able-bodied man, of any color.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Macon Telegraph says that: "Cattle are being shipped out of Georgia. Beef is being shipped in." The same way as to North Carolina. It is time to make a change. The farmers should get at it for it will pay.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Republicans may think they are putting it up to the Democrats by making speeches on the tariff bill, but everybody understands the situation pretty thoroughly and the only thing they will be held responsible for is the probable delay in its final passage. —Durham Herald.

The last of the various departments of Winston and Salem were merged today when the water offices of the two towns were consolidated. Mr. E. Long, who has been with the Salem office, will be associated with Mr. T. L. Rawley of the city water department, in the future.—Winston-Salem Journal.

The first load of rustic work to come from the workshop of the Utility Works in the mountains arrived this week and is shown at The News building. It consists of rustic porch rockers and tables and a few trinket souvenirs. They are attracting much attention, as the industry is new here.—Polk County News.

Secretary Garrison has learned that fewer veterans died during the week of the Gettysburg celebration than would have died had all the veterans remained at home. So it is apparent that though Getysburg in 1863 cost many lives, Gettysburg in 1913 saved some. Living in tents under sanitary conditions, many of the old soldiers may have been more healthfully housed than they are at home.—Savannah News.

The last great railway wage dispute was settled by the railways yielding under pressure of public opinion. There is reason to believe that the railways will not yield again. The Erie certainly will not, for on Tuesday it withdrew from the combination of railways which is dealing with the combination of employes. The railways generally are not likely to yield again, because the force of public opinion was wrongly brought to bear upon them by leaders of opinion who now are leading the movement for the amendment of the law that was defective when the railways were compelled to submit to its provisions.—New York Times.

In the reply of Mr. Maxwell, clerk of the Corporation Commission, to Mr. F. N. Tate, president of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association, published last Tuesday, there are some matters of interest to the State outside of the matters in controversy between those geniemen. One thing which is shown is that the Maxwell speech must be regarded as the official utterance of the Commission, that the Maxwell position is that of the Commission. The people of the State are surprised at this, and we confess that we should have preferred that the Commissioners issue their own statement, and not sit mute, while having their clerk make it for them. Since the Maxwell speech in pamphlet form is issued at the public expense by the Corporation Commission, the people may understand that it is the answer of the Corporation Commission to the demand of the people that practical steps be taken to reduce the unjust freight rates charged the people of North Carolina.—Charlotte Observer.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Deputy Sheriff Found Guilty of Carrying Concealed Weapons.

The Recorder yesterday decided that Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly was guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. Similar cases against Sheriff Cowan, Deputy Sheriff Reynolds and Constable Davis were continued. The Recorder in making his decision reviewed the evidence in the case which showed that the defendant was frequently called on when going to and from his home and sometimes when he was at home, to serve warrants, and that in performing his duties it was necessary to have a pistol concealed on his person. An appeal was taken to the Superior Court and it is expected that the case will go from there to the Supreme Court.

Levy Lane, colored, charged with assaulting his wife with a hatchet and a pistol, was found guilty and sentenced to the county roads for six months. Dave Clark, colored, was sent to the roads for three months for assaulting Louise Cunningham, colored, with a pistol. Judgment was suspended in the case of George Lane, colored, charged with assaulting William Erwn, colored. The case against Jake Richerson, colored, charged with selling whiskey, was nol prossed with leave on account of the continued absence of witnesses for the State.

Cases against V. B. Brittain and J. M. Woolard, charged with engaging in an affray were continued until today. The case against Robert MacMillan and Matthew Pearsall, both colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, were also continued until today on account of the illness of Robert MacMillan.

A case against J. E. Cowell, who is charged with violating the Sunday law by keeping open a barber shop on Princess street last Sunday, was continued until July 17th. Cases against Ella Nixon, Beulah Pickett and Lauberta Nixon, all colored, charged with vagrancy, were continued until today.

Pauline Hicks, colored, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in the case of Dixie Best, colored, charged with vagrancy.

There will be a number of visitors besides the preachers and delegates who will make reports of the work of the schools and colleges and other branches of endeavor of the Methodists. Their reports and the discussion of important matters pertaining to the advancement of the work of the different pastoral charges will serve to make it a most interesting conference.

MRS. MARY APPLEWHITE DEAD

Aged Lady Passed Away Yesterday Morning—Funeral Last Night

Mrs. Mary Ann Applewhite, who had been an invalid for several years, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the family home, No. 411 Red Cross street. She lacked only two months of being 84 years old, and had many friends who will be grieved to learn of her death. The funeral services were held last night at 8 o'clock at the residence, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

The body will be taken this morning on the 5:35 train to Freeman from which place it will be carried to the family burying ground at Applewhite, where interment will be made at 9 o'clock.

The pallbearers will be her grandsons, Messrs. B. F., Thomas E., R. C., Jr., William R., George B. and A. L. Applewhite.

Mrs. Applewhite was the widow of the late B. D. Applewhite, who died in Columbus county about 33 years ago. She was the mother of 10 children but only two are living, these being Messrs. B. W. and R. C. Applewhite, of Wilmington. She was born in Wayne county September 9th, 1829, and was a sister of the late T. L. Vail, of Charlotte, and of Henry Vail, of Wayne county. She is survived by a large number of grandchildren in this State and in Georgia.

She had been an invalid for many years and her death while not unexpected nevertheless brought sorrow to her scores of friends and relatives. She exemplified to a marked degree those Christian graces of character which made her Godly life a benediction to all who knew her. She bore with rare patience and resignation her suffering and never murmured nor complained.

DIED AT CHADBOURN

Mrs. Jessie A. Greenleas, of Ohio, Passed Away Sunday

The body of Mrs. Jessie E. Greenleas, who died Sunday at Chadbourn, was brought to Wilmington early yesterday morning accompanied by Mr. W. R. Blake, of Chadbourn, and taken to Yopp's undertaking parlors where it was embalmed. Mr. Greenleas, her husband, arrived in the city yesterday morning and left with the body on the morning train for Hudson, Ohio, where the interment will be made. Mr. Greenleas has only been in Chadbourn a few months being connected with a Chicago publishing house, but he and his young wife were very popular, and he has many friends who sympathize with him in his sad misfortune.

—Mr. C. D. Meyers, of the Eureka Dye Works, returned Sunday from Omaha, Neb., where he attended the annual convention of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

This is the season when she who would have a rose-leaf complexion, lily-white neck and hands, should turn her thoughts to mercolized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectually overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, withered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of mercolized wax obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion.

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.

The top nut is five-sided and is 1 14-16 of an inch in size. The hydrant is a brand new one, placed expressly for the firemen.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETED

Capt. Blondell Ready for Swimming Exhibitions at Lumina

Capt. Blondell, the noted swimmer, who will give swimming exhibitions in Wrightsville Sound at Lumina on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week, yesterday completed the construction of the three boats which he will use on these occasions. The only preparations remaining to be made is placing them in the water at the beach and the completion of a few minor details.

The performance tomorrow night will close with an exhibition of a square-rigged ship on fire with marine fireworks and an explosion. Thursday night the exhibition will close with a representation of schooner-rigged ship with marine fireworks and explosion. Friday night there will be a reproduction of the destruction of the Titanic.

On each night there will be fancy trick swimming, diving and other aquatic stunts by Capt. Blondell which will be most interesting. A powerful spot light will be used so that the spectators can follow him in all his movements in the water.

ASK CHAMBER TO MEDIATE

County Commissioners Suggest Adjustment of Health Controversy by Committee of the Chamber of Commerce—Details.

The controversy between Council and the Board of Health relative to the salaries of health officials, and which body has the authority to fix them, City Council or the Board of Health, came up for discussion in the meeting of the County Commissioners yesterday, when Commissioner McGirt offered a resolution suggesting that the matter be referred to a committee of the Chamber of Commerce for adjustment. After some hesitancy on the part of Commissioner Yopp, the resolution was adopted.

Commissioner Yopp was at first of the opinion that it was not now a matter that the Commisioners should pay attention to, they having nothing further to do with it, after having arranged for payment of the county's one-fifth part of the expense and approving the budget of the health department. However, he withdrew his objection and the resolution reading as follows was passed without dissent:

"Whereas, There has arisen a difference of opinion between the City Council and the Board of Health as to the powers of the Board of Health, in the fixing and payment of salaries of the employes of the Board of Health, resulting in the suggestion from the City Council that a suit in court be instituted for the purpose of establishing the rights and powers of the Board of Health, with the further suggestion that any decision of Judge Rountree will not be accepted as final, but that the case should be carried to the Supreme Court; and

"Whereas, a decision of the court would not involve any principle but only the construction of an act as it relates to the expenditure of the funds appropriated by the city and county for the use of the Board of Health; and

"Whereas, In the opinion of this board, the Board of Health should be left free to expend its funds as it thinks best in order to preserve the health of the community, so long as the appropriation agreed upon is not exceeded, and for the further reason that a law suit would entail additional and unnecessary expense and a decision could not be secured for some time.

"Therefore, Be it resolved, that the City Council be urged to unite with the Board of Commissioners in a request to the Chamber of Commerce to appoint a committee of five, which shall be composed of good business men and large taxpayers, to consider the differences which have arisen between the City Council and the Board of Health, and that the Council be requested to agree to be governed by the decision of said committee on the matters submitted to it.

"Resolved further, That the clerk of this board transmit to the City Council a copy of the above resolution, with the request that the Council give it consideration and notify this board whether or not they will accede to the suggestion made therein."

MANY CHILDREN EXAMINED

Appointments Made for Nearly All Available Hours Up to August 1st—Some Interesting Cases Found.

The medical inspection of school children at the United States Marine Hospital under the direction of Dr. Chas. W. Stiles, surgeon in charge, has met with such general approval that appointments have been made for nearly all available hours up to August 1st.

Many persons, other than school children, have requested to be put through the regular examination, but because of the rush of work it has been found necessary to limit the work strictly to school pupils and to persons in whom parasitic infections are suspected by attending physicians; in the latter cases, the examinations are made only at the request of the physician in charge of the case.

An interesting feature of the work last week was the fact that several of the local physicians sent their own children to the hospital to be examined.

Considerable interest has been aroused recently during the medical inspection of the school children when one of the Wilmington school boys made an unusually high record in the mental tests. The tests given him became more and more complicated but according to the report "he ate them all up." One of the girls, also, came through the tests with flying colors, demonstrating that her mental age is at least two years higher than her actual age.

Another interesting case was presented in the finding of the germ of malaria in a child who showed no symptoms of the disease. The child, who represents a malaria "carrier", and who, therefore, forms a possible source of infection to the mosquitoes in her home and thereby might act as a malarial reservoir to the rest of the family, was promptly turned over to the family physician for treatment.

Two girls are reported upon as being "distressingly healthy," despite a medical study of more than two hours' duration.

After all of the microscopic examinations are made and the record completed, the parents are notified by mail in regard to the findings.

Purely as a general precautionary measure Dr. Stiles ordered a revaccination the past week of all persons on the Marine Hospital Reservation in the city, including the members of the staff and their families, the attendants and the patients.

On account of the fact that a considerable proportion of the sailor patients at the United States Marine Hospital in Wilmington come from other parts of the country and cannot, therefore, be visited by any member of their family, the hospital has instituted as a matter of daily routine the policy of writing daily to the sailors' families, keeping them informed of the patient's condition and sending to their nearest relatives any messages sailors may desire.

This plan was begun in the case of a sailor from the Clyde Line steamer Cherokee, whose family lives in New England, and it will be continued as a daily routine matter as regularly as taking the temperature and counting the pulse of the patient.

WEATHER FINE FOR BOYS

Members of Company C, Boys' Brigade, Are Now Enjoying to the Fullest the Pleasures of Carolina Beach

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Boys' Brigade Camp, Carolina Beach, July 14.—Sunday was a day long to be remembered by those who are encamped at Carolina Beach, mainly because of the pleasant conditions of the weather which was such an improvement over the stormy weather experienced during the previous few days when life was a burden and hope a thing departed.

The day was begun with breakfast at 7:30 followed by house cleaning and then the religious exercises were conducted by Mr. Dushan, and every member of the camp was present to enjoy this service. The regular Sunday school lesson was the basis for the exercises and the effect was felt during the day as the fact that it was the Sabbath was impressed upon the boys and none seemed inclined to ignore the fact. The temptation to forget was strong especially after the crowd from the city came down but though it cost an effort the day passed off without an infringement and all seemed well pleased at the end of the day in the fact that none had transgressed.

Many friends of the boys and several of the parents were pleasant visitors who were especially welcomed by the boys and by the leaders of the encampment. Dinner was served to several of these as well as a few of the older members who visited us. Their presence added much to the pleasure of the day.

Monday opened with a surf bath at 6:30, followed by breakfast after which a short religious exercise was conducted. Several of the boys wandered off to the various fishing places and though they succeeded in catching nothing more than a few cats they enjoyed the venture.

Beach has taken the prize as head nurse. There is no limit to what this splendid fellow will do in order to show his gallantry. The boys are now asking him how he likes carrying the baby. Some sport this.

Something of a sensation was created yesterday at the pavilion when a group of earnest fellows desiring to have a little fun proceeded to divest one Gerard LeGwin of his trousers and succeeded much to his embarrassment and mortification. The moral of this is that "pride goeth before a fall." His white trousers were a source of annoyance to the other less fortunate boys who did not possess such things as a pair of ducks and they could not break up his corner of girls in any other manner than to destroy his sources of power much as Samson was shorn of his power long ago. He is completely subdued now and it is doubtful if he will make his appearance any more and the success of his rivals is complete.

Harry Fergus is in the depths of despair. He is here but his heart is in Wilmington. V is his first case and it goes hard. He confided to some of his choicest friends today that he hoped she would be down Tuesday. They are on the lookout for her and if she does come then look out Harry. We hope she will come soon as there is nothing doing with Harry now. Work is repugnant. To read is abomination. Food is unpalatable, while sleep hath departed from his weary eyelids. He sighs constantly and his only song is, "To the End of the World With You."

Puggy Davis is still with us though it is uncertain how long he will remain.

Mack Griffith enjoyed his first shave this morning. He borrowed a razor and soap and proceeded to hunt diligently for the necessary hair. It was a close and long hunt. There was nothing doing in the hair line where one usually finds hair for a razor and so in despair he finally induced his friend to remove one of his eyebrows. He is now handsome beyond description.

A guard detail has been suggested for tomorrow, as follows: Marvin Register, corporal; Jobe and Reilly Moore.

A certain young gentleman from Wilmington spent Sunday at the beach and created something of a sensation by appearing in what looked to those at a short distance to be two red strips composed of three-inch ribbons, one wound around the waist and the other about the thighs. Ladies shunned him in horror and it was planned to have him placed in jail for appearing in nothing more than a happy smile and a decoration of red ribbons, but after a more careful inspection it was discovered that this was a white bath suit with red strips. This was easily the sensation of the day. Ask John Fergus who this was and some interesting information will be gleaned.

The boys are now at the height of their enjoyment. Every moment is filled to overflowing and this will probably develope into one of the best encampments in the history of the company.

BROTHER SHOOTS BROTHER

Mr. Louis Hanby Wounds Mr. Archie Hanby in Leg at Residence on Wrightsville Sound—Injury Not Serious.

Something of a sensation was created in Wilmington and Wrightsville Sound last night when it became known that Mr. Louis Hanby and Mr. Archie Hanby, brothers, had engaged in a personal difficulty at the home of the former on Wrightsville Sound, with the result that the latter was shot through the calf of the left leg, but not seriously wounded. The trouble occurred about 8 o'clock.

Mr. Archie Hanby was brought to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he was given the necessary surgical attention and after the wound was dressed left the institution. The ball passed through the fleshy part of his leg, but the wound is not considered serious.

Mr. Louis Hanby telephoned Sheriff Cowan and Justice Harriss of the trouble soon after it occurred and caught an early suburban car for the city, arriving at 10:30 o'clock, and formally surrendered to Justice Harriss, who recognized him for his appearance at trial on charge of assault with deadly weapon.

Mr. Louis Hanby stated in the magistrate's office last night that his brother came to his residence in an automobile early last evening and began using abusive language and made a movement as if to draw a weapon from his pocket. Then it was, said Mr. Louis Hanby, that he got out his own pistol and fired at his brother three times, one bullet taking effect in the left leg, as stated. All of the shots appeared to have been aimed at his legs, it is stated.

Division of the Hanby estate, which is considered quite valuable, is said to have occasioned some controversy among members of the family, but whether this had anything to do with the difficulty last night is not stated.

July Clearing Sale is now on at Rehder's. Everybody will be delighted with the wonderful surprise sales. Don't forget the hour—10 o'clock, at Rehder's, Fourth Street Bridge.

LOCAL JUDGE HOLDS COURT

Two Weeks' Special Term Began Yesterday With Hon. George Rountree Presiding—Fine Charge —Woman to Pen.

Precision in every detail of the machinery and rapid dispatch of business marked the opening session of the first term of Superior Court presided over by Hon. George Rountree, of Wilmington, which began in the Court House here yesterday morning. So well did everything move along that one would easily have taken His Honor to be an old-timer at the business of presiding over courts.

It is a special term of court, called by Governor Craig on petition of the County Commissioners in order to clear the jail of a large number of prisoners confined therein, as the next regular term is not until September. Homer L. Lyon, Esq., of Whiteville, is solicitor of the new Eighth Judicial district, and he was on hand to look after the interests of the State. The district is composed of New Hanover, Brunswick, Pender and Columbus counties.

His First Sentence

A colored woman, Rachael Pollock, has the distinction of being the first person to be sentenced by Judge Rountree. Rachael was charged with the murder of May King, also colored, some two years ago. She shot the woman death ensuing instantly. Leaving town immediately after the shooting the woman escaped arrest until a few months ago when she was captured in Newbern and brought back here to stand trial. Yesterday she entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder, which was accepted by the solicitor. Judge Rountree then sentenced her to five years in the State penitentiary at Raleigh.

Mr. N. M. McEachern was chosen foreman of the grand jury. The other members are: J. G. Johnson, A. W. Clemmons, A. H. Matthews, W. M. Hurst, Andrew Blair, E. O. Hewlett, R. M. Russ, W. E. Streeter, H. B. Shepard, O. H. Henderson, J. A. Westbrook, Coy Hewlett, M. Marshburn, E. I. Bear, J. C. Anderson, W. A. Harrell, E. T. Hancock.

A handsome bouquet of American beauty roses with setting of ferns and asparagus adorned the desk of Judge Rountree. The bouquet was received at the Court House yesterday morning by express from Mr. Pembroke Jones, a close friend of Judge Rountree.

Friends Hear Charge

Many friends of Judge Rountree were present to hear his first charge, including nearly half of the members of the bar and a number of prominent business men. All paid strict attention to the charge, which was pronounced by them as one of the best they had ever heard. There was nothing unusual or sensational about the charge; it was a lucid and interesting exposition of the duties of the jurors with several timely references to local conditions.

In beginning Judge Rountree called attention to the importance of the position occupied by the jurors. He told them that their function was not only important but absolutely indispensible to the enforcement of the criminal law. No person can be called to answer to the higher offenses save through indictment brought by the grand jury. In petty offenses, such as are in the jurisdiction of magistrate and police justice or Recorder's courts, no indictment by the grand jury is ne-

CITY GETS THE PROPERTY

United States Government Permits the Improvement and Use of Lawn Back of Post Office—No Playground.

Coming as most pleasing information to the entire populace is the announcement yesterday that the Treasury Department at Washington had notified Postmaster H. McL. Green, as custodian of the property, that the request of the City of Wilmington, formally presented through Congressman H. L. Godwin, for privilege to improve the lawn back of the post office and use the green as a sort of park, had been granted. The only condition imposed is that the property be not used as a playground for children.

Formal notice of the action of the Treasury Department will be sent to Mayor Moore today by Postmaster Green. The Department grants what is known as license, revocable at the will of the Department, for the use of government property of this nature. Necessary papers will likely be prepared and signed within a few days. The property will then be turned over to the city under the conditions named. It is expected that the city will lose no time in improving the property by planting trees, flowers, laying out walks and in the construction of a pavilion in the center of the beautiful plot of ground. The lawn faces on both Second street and Chestnut street and is one of the prettiest pieces of property anywhere in the city. It can be made a still prettier place, and doubtless will, now that the city has secured the use of it for this purpose.

It was a suggestion of a member of Sorosis that native flowers and shrubbery could be used in the city, both beautifying the streets and yards and preserving the native plants, many of which are very beautiful and attractive, and which are certain of destruction, as the woods give way before development of outlying properties; and this idea could be carried out in improving the post office lawn to pleasing advantage.

It is to be hoped that the lawn may be equipped with seats and made available for "a place to sit down." Visitors often complain of the lack of such a place in Wilmington.

"There's nowhere but the curb," once a man said, "where a fellow can sit down and rest."

Excursionists coming to the city and beach often find it a wearying wait, after their day is done, until their trains depart.

MR. AND MRS. SPRUNT AT NARRAGANSETT COTTAGE.

"Polly Peachtree" in Sunday's Atlanta American:

"Mr. and Mrs. James Sprunt, of Wilmington, have arrived at their Narragansett cottage and will soon have as their guest one of Atlanta's most charming buds-to-be, Miss Katherine Ellis.

"The Sprunts have been popular members of the cottage colony at Narragansett for some time, and Miss Ellis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, have also summered there a number of years. This season, I have heard, Mr. and Mrs. Sprunt will be the only members of the family to spend the entire Summer at Narragansett, and Miss Ellis will be their house guest in July.

"The polo clans at Narragansett are looking forward to the annual tournament of the Point Judith Club, which opens on Saturday, the 19th. Under the auspices of the National Polo Association, three championship matches will be played at Narragansett.

"The Pier is always gay during the polo season and attracts many visiting belles. Miss Ellis to be one of a number of charming girls from many cities."

Making Physical Valuation.

In accordance with a recent act of Congress requiring all railroads to make a physical valuation of their property, a large force of men have recently arrived in Wilmington for this purpose. This work by the provisions of the act is to be done under the direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and it is expected that it will take at least five years to complete the gigantic undertaking. Every mile of railroad in the United States must be valued not only at the present time, but also at the time it was originally constructed. This will necessitate the examination of records from the time of its construction.

OTHER TOWNS ARE BUSY.

Health Campaign Being Waged—Work in Raleigh and Greensboro.

Following Wilmington's lead other cities in the Carolinas have inaugurated campaigns for the betterment of health and sanitary conditions. Columbia, S. C., Charlotte, Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Raleigh are some of the cities that are bestirring themselves in this direction. It will be of interest to note that Ralegh has just elected a meat and milk inspector for the city, Dr. L. F. Koonce, a prominent young veterinarian of that place being selected at a salary of $1,800 a year. In New Hanover county the meat and dairy inspector, Dr. Thos. B. Carroll—and he is as good as the best in his line—is paid a salary of only $600 a year.

Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer says that Dr. Koonce will be given an assistant and that he will be allowed to practice his profession privately, the first service going to the city, of course.

Raleigh has just installed an abattoir which the meat and milk inspector will be required to look after. Fees are charged for slaughtering as follows: cattle $1; calves, 35 cents; sheep 35 cents; goats 35 cents; hogs weighing under 100 pounds 50 cents; hogs over 100 and under 200 pounds, 75 cents; over 200 pounds $1.

In Greensboro a determined campaign against the mosquito and fly has been started and is already showing good results. Sunday's Greensboro News had the following to say of the work:

"The assistant city health officers, Dr. J. T. J. Battle in the department of the mosquito, and E. P. Wharton, in the fly department, are making rapid inroads into the swarms of these pests which are accustomed to thrive in Greensboro, the past week showing results that are encouraging, and which more certainly than ever establish the fact that it is possible to diminish and even destroy them. The work has been carried forward steadily and as thoroughly as possible in accordance with the plan marked out several weeks ago.

"The ensuing week will witness a still more determined and thorough effort in the campaign, which is to be continued till the months of Fall. This next week four police officers will be detailed to the work of examination of premises in the city. The campaign will be carried on by wards, and it is the purpose to visit every place of residence and business in the corporate limits.

"The campaign is being made now against both the fly and the mosquito, the latter of which is beginning to make an appearance in large numbers. As to the mosquito Dr. Battle said yesterday a number of the breeding places have been destroyed, but not nearly so many as is necessary to an elimination, and to this end the work will be carried on with steadiness.

"The work in Greensboro in the interest of better health conditions is a cause of commendation from outside cities, letters having been received commenting on the good example and extending hope of its continuance, and of its ultimate success. That the example set by this city is claiming attention elsewhere is a matter of which those foremost in the fight feel proud."

By deed filed for record yesterday Mary R. Kunkel, of Hamilton, Md., transfers to Katherine F. Wright, of Portsmouth, Va., for $11,000, the valuable realty known as the old Journal property on south side of Princess street, 145 feet west of Second. The property has a frontage of 64.4 1-2 feet on Princess street and a depth of 99 feet.

Wrightsville Beach

Among those registered at the Hanover Inn Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Curtis and Howard Curtis, Southport, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Henry, Henderson, Ky.

There was the largest attendance at Lumina Sunday of any Sunday this Summer. The splendid musical programmes given Sunday afternoon and night by the large orchestra were especially enjoyed. At night the orchestra consisted of 13 pieces.

The special week-end rates offered by the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railroads brought a large number of visitors to the beach Sunday, the total number being over 1,200. Most of these returned to their homes Sunday night while a few remained over until yesterday.

Among the week-end guests registered at the Seashore Hotel were C. R. Dodson, Kinston; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Baker, Wilson; J. Ross McNeal, Burgaw; C. B. Seay, St. Louis; Mrs. Clarence May, Atlanta; J. J. Brown and J. D. Everett, Spartanburg; George W. Forester, Atlanta; Brian Floyd, Spartanburg.

All of the hotels on the beach are filled to their capacity and they were forced to turn away guests both Saturday and Sunday. The cottages are also filled with guests, and the indications are that during the remainder of the Summer season the beach will be crowded with visitors. Requests for reservations are being received by the hotels and cottages every day.

Included in the week-end arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel were O. P. Shell, Dunn; Clarence C. Smith, Richmond, Va.; Julian Springs, Lake Waccamaw; J. D. McCleskey, H. M. Scott and Stuart Boyd, Atlanta; Mrs. J. J. Hoke and U. R. Saye, Athens, Ga.; E. P. Hoke, Augusta; Fred Spencer, Bessemer City; C. T. Hill, Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss A. E. Griswold, Macon, Ga.

Sunday's Greensboro News: "Miss Annie Fred Foushee and Miss Jennie Vanstory leave tomorrow for Wrightsville Beach.——Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cook and Miss Lydia Brookbank, who have been spending several days at Wrightsville Beach, returned home yesterday afternoon.——Master Douglas Scales returned yesterday from a month's stay with relatives in Wilmington.——Miss Florence Hunt and Miss Florence Pannill, who have been resting at Wrightsville Beach, will arrive Tuesday morning and leave Wednesday night for Chicago to do special study during the remainder of the Summer."

A "tango tea" was given by Mrs. Baskerville, of New York, and Mrs. Boylston, of Raleigh, on Thursday evening in the dancing pavilion at the Oceanic Hotel. It proved thoroughly enjoyable to the large number who attended. Around the walls there were small tea tables at which cooling refreshments were served to those who did not dance and to the dancers between the numbers played by the orchestra. All the new dances were featured and Mr. Chas. Baskerville, Jr., illustrated some new steps of the tango which were very pleasing to all those present. The hostesses with their mother, Mrs. George H. Snow, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Martin Cannon, of Concord, received the guests, who numbered about 150. Miss Elizabeth Baskerville, Miss Adelaide Boyleston and Miss Marjorie Willard assisted in serving.

At the Parsley Cottage are a number of guests who visit the beach each year. Among the recent arrivals are the following: Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Zemp, Miss Katherine Zemp, Master Eugene Zemp, Miss Shinn and Miss Elizabeth Garrison, Camden, S. C.; Miss Davidson, Miss Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mr. W. M. Gallant, Mr. J. P. Lucas and family, Charlotte; Miss Horton and Miss Mary Bennett, of Wadesboro; Miss Florence Hunt and Miss Pannill, Greensboro; Mrs. John Peschau and son, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Murray, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wright and son, Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Eleanor Watson and Miss Elizabeth Bingham, Salisbury; Capt. John Cutts and family, Florence, S. C.; Mr. C. P. Mebane, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, Miss Louise deRosset, Miss MadeUne deRosset, Miss Mary Bell, Miss Gertrude Bell, Mrs. John VanB. Metts, Miss Josephine Metts, Lieut. L. C. Covell, U. S. Seminole, Mrs. Covell and two daughters, all of Wilmington, and Cadet W. E. R. Covell, of U. S. Military Academy, West Point.

PROHIBITION OF THE TURKEY TROT AT BEACH.

In Sunday's Atlanta American "Polly Peachtree" has the following to say relative to the prohibition of the turkey trot at Lumina:

"Having no desire to abolish the popularity of Wrightsville Beach with Atlanta people, but 'news is news' and I can not refrain from publishing the fact that the turkey trot is prohibited there.

"Atlanta belles and young matrons who departed for the seashore in joyous anticipation of dancing at 'Lumina' were met upon arrival at the hotels of Wrightsville with this startling announcement. And to add insult to injury, they tell me, the orchestra plays beautifully at 'Lumina' every evening—and folks sit around and listen to the music! For the past two seasons Wrightsville Beach has been a favorite with Atlantans, though I doubt not the extreme measures against the most popular pastime of the seasons will modify this favoritism.

"However, before the season is over Wrightsville Beach hotel proprietors—or whoever it is that is responsible for this silly prohibiton of dancng—may wake up, especially as so many 'live ones' are going to the beach unaware of the restrictions imposed.

"I do not think they have yet prohibited silk bathing suits, but don't know what will come. I can vouch for the fact that there were nothing but silk suits and silk stockings on the beach last season. One charming girl wore a lovely black and white silk suit of extreme cut, I remember, and instead of black hose she wore the thinnest of white silk stockings, the appearance of which was pretty, but not so very conservative.

"Mrs. John Kiser, I hear, is the prize fisherman now at Wrightsville. She can go out to sea in a small boat, anchor on the tossing waves for hours at a time, and still be able to sit up and catch fish. How she does it I can not imagine, but she does.

"Mrs. Frank Meador is a fine guest for the sailing parties, which are a feature of life at Wrightsville. It's a desirable thing to be, too, for the guests of these fishing parties and sailing parties are mostly one-time-only guests. I don't blame them, either, for I went out once on the 'Nancy Jane'."

While the turkey trot and all other new dances have been prohibited at Lumina, the pavilion at the Oceanic Hotel has been given over entirely to the one-step. Every day from 11 to 1 o'clock the pavilion is open for dancing and it is needless to say that the place is always crowded.

Charged With Violating Sunday Ordinance in Opening Shop

Mr. J. E. Cowell, who conducts a barber shop in the basement at northwest corner of Front and Princess streets, was arrested Sunday on the charge of keeping his shop open in violation of the Sunday ordinance of the city. The case was set for trial yesterday before the Recorder, but was continued on account of not having a revised copy of the ordinance at hand. The ordinance in question, a gentleman stated yesterday, does not prohibit anyone from doing a general barbering business on Sunday but simply states that it must not be run with the doors open. It is alleged that Mr. Cowell had his shop open in a way that anyone passing by could see that he was doing a barbering business.

Record-Breaking Crowds.

The largest crowd of any Sunday this Summer visited Carolina Beach Sunday. One of the attractions, besides the regular Sunday concerts by the orchestra and the surf bathing, was the encampment of the younger company of the Boys' Brigade. This week Capt. Harper will run night boats to the beach, leaving Wilmington each night at 7:30 o'clock, returning after allowing time to spend an hour or so at this delightful beach.

COTTON MARKET SITUATION

Chief Trading Feature Readjustment of the Interest in Near Months —Cotton Arrivals from the South Light

New York, July 14.—The chief trading feature in today's cotton market appeared to be a readjustment of the interest in near months. Influenced, doubtless, by the continued light arrivals of cotton here from the South, for delivery on contract, and further reductions in the local stock, there was considerable covering by scattered July shorts, and the strength of the spot position naturally created some demand for August.

This was supplied, however, by selling attributed to old longs, who seemed to be switching their contracts to later months, particularly October, and in the absence of important new crop offerings the demand proved sufficient to impart a generally steady undertone to the situation with the close showing net gains of from 1 to 8 points.

Liverpool was a shade better than due, if anything, after the holidays of last week, with private cables reporting enough trade demand for the purpose of fixing prices to absorb continental liquidation.

The local market opened steady, at unchanged prices to a decline of two points under scattered selling, encouraged by favorable weekly crop reviews, but the demand for the near months soon steadied up the list, and it looked as if selling of late deliveries was restricted by the forecast for continued warm weather in the Southwest and for fear of insect damage, owing to the reported prevalence of boll weevil. At any rate, there was very little cotton for sale at any time during the day, and after showing a net advance of about 2 to 10 points the market closed within 2 or 3 points of the best. The census figures of supply and distribution for June seemed to be without any special influence. They indicated a loss of about 210,000 bales in domestic mill stocks for the month, but also showed some falling off in consumption as compared with May, although tending to confirm estimates placing the total mill consumption of this country for the season at about 5,800,000 bales.

The first bale of the new crop was sold at auction here today, about 10 days to two weeks later than the average crop.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 12.30; do. gulf, 12.55. Sales, none.

Futures closed steady.

MARKET SPECULATION IS PARALYZED

Fluctuations Fail to Escape Fractional Limits—No Appearance of Life in Market at Any Time During the Session.

New York, July 14.—Continued paralysis of speculation to a degree unparalleled since the business of buying and selling stocks attained the proportions regarded as normal in recent years, was the feature of today's market.

Prices held fairly steady, although late in the day some of the leading stocks eased off, influenced by the weakness of the copper group. With a few exceptions fluctuations did not escape fractional limits.

There was no appearance of life in the market at any time during the session. The day's total of transactions was only 78,300 shares.

Weakness of the coppers were associated with the rumor which has often done service in the past, although each time discredited subsequently, to the effect that the government was about to institute proceedings against important copper interests. Smelting broke two points to within a fraction of the year's price, and Amalgamated yielded a point. Canadian Pacific also was exceptionally heavy, and Union Pacific at times lagged behind.

There was no development over the week end to stimulate speculation. The possibility of a strike of conductors and trainmen on Eastern roads tended to restrict trading, although the day's developments were regarded as increasing the probabilities of a peaceful settlement. Resumption of gold exports to Europe had been looked for as it was expected that, conforming with the three previous movements of the year, $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 more gold would be sent out of the country.

In addition to the $1,500,000 engaged for export today, tentative arrangements were made for another shipment of the same amount. The year's exports of gold now amount to 64,885,000, of which $41,000,000 went to Europe, and the remainder to South America.

There were few changes of importance in the bond market, although a number of well known issues displayed a weakening tendency. Total sales, par value, $1,049,000. United States 4s, coupon, advanced ½c. on call. Total sales today were 78,300 shares, including A. C. L., 500; C. and O., 1,000; L. and N., 100; N. and W., 100; V.-C. C., 100.

CONVICTS ON CITY STREETS.

Greensboro Finds It Highly Satisfactory and Economical.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 14.—The use of convict labor on the city streets has been found very satisfactory and economical, according to a statement made by Commissioner of Public Works Foushee.

The cost to the city of convict labor, including board, lodging, guarding, medical attendance, etc., is 45 cents a day, against $1.25 a day that would have to be paid for free labor. In addition to this, he says that 25 convicts will do the work of 35 ordinary laborers.

Since the commission form of government was adopted and the use of convicts on the streets commenced, a wonderful amount of street improvement has been done and the streets of the city are fast being put into excellent condition. Special attention is given to having sanitary camps and wholesome food for the convicts. The county has been complaining since Greensboro has taken men convicted in the city court, for heretofore they were sent to the county roads and now the county force is diminished.

NEGRESS KILLS WHITE MAN.

Tragedy in Patrick County, Va., Result of Whiskey Controversy.

Danville, Va., July 14.—News was received here tonight from Critz, Patrick county, of the killing on Saturday afternoon of John Joyce, a farmer, at the hands of Lucy Gilley, a negro woman, who was placed under arrest on Sunday, following the action of the coroner's jury. R. L. Ratliff, an eye witness, declares that the negress demanded payment for whiskey in front of her dwelling when Joyce refused it. Seizing a rifle she shot him. Joyce tried to escape, but the woman fire again, killing him. Ratliff in the meantime ran to secure aid, and returning found the body where it had fallen.

of the copies of the Mulhall letters furnished by the Senate committee, and to consider documents to be presented by the National Association of Manufacturers in answer to a subpoena "duces tecum" served on Jas. A. Emery. The study and arrangement of these documents will occupy the time of the committee for a number of days, Chairman Garrett said, and no witnesses will be examined until it has been completed.

Representative Fairchild was sworn to allow him to make a statement in answer to Col. Mulhall's charge that he is a "large and wealthy manufacturer himself, and one of the most active adherents of the association," and that he told Mulhall of "meetings and dinners held in Emery's home."

Mulhall also declared that he had been sent into Mr. Fairchild's district on three separate occasions at his request.

In both 1906 and 1908 Mulhall said he worked in Mr. Fairchild's district and his expenses were paid by the National Association of Manufacturers.

In a former statement, Representative Fairchild denied that he was a member of the manufacturers' association or an adherent of the organization. He said he had never been approached by any member or representatives of the association relative to any measure pending before the House. Col. Mulhall, Mr. Fairchild said, spent one day in his district in 1906, during his campaign for re-election.

"He came entirely without request or pre-arrangement," said the Representative. "And I did not know at the time that he was connected with the National Association of Manufacturers. I supposed he represented one of the political committees, either National, State, or Congressional."

He added that Col. Mulhall was not in his district in 1908. Supplementing his statement, Mr. Fairchild said in 1906 Col. Mulhall did "semi-detective work" for him.

"In 1910," he said, "I sent for him to obtain information as to those who were working hard to defeat me. In 1912, last Fall, when I had a hard fight on my hands, I again sent for him to do certain detective work. After he had been in the district two days he was asked by the Republicans who were working for me, to return to New Jersey, where he had been working."

Mr. Fairchild said he had copies of all correspondence between himself and Mulhall, and would furnish them for the committee. He was excused without cross examination, but will be called after the committee begins the examination of witnesses.

Senator Reed, during the course of the examination of Mulhall in the Senate hearing, brought in the name of former Congressman Nicholas Longworth and P. H. Goebel, of Ohio, when he put in the record an article from a Philadelphia paper August 8th, 1906, in which Longworth and Goebel were said to be opposed by the American Federation of Labor.

"Longworth had been a pretty good fellow when you went to see him for the National Association of Manufacturers."

"I had never met Mr. Longworth up to that time," said the witness.

Correspondence submitted dealt at length with Mulhall's efforts in behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers to bring about the re-election of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine, and to elect the present Congressman, Daniel McGillicuddy.

Marshall Cushing, former secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers in a letter mentioned a plan of Mulhall's to keep Democrats from the polls in the Maine election.

"The plan was to have enough whiskey on hand on September 10th to keep a lot of Democrats drunk," said Mulhall. "We had a hall in Rockland as labor headquarters. I myself counted 23 men in that hall so beastly drunk they couldn't get on their feet. I left because of the stench."

Mulhall told of an agreement he made with Dr. G. L. Crockett for work against the labor forces in Knox county. Crockett was paid $500 for making a speech at the Rockland Rink September 6th, 1906, against Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. At that time Mulhall said, Crockett held a sort of commission as physician to Gompers, and he was to be paid for turning against Gompers and making the speech at the rink. The speech did more harm than good, the witness added, because it was a "scurrilous attack" on Gompers and went too far.

The $500 was paid to Crockett by Fred Wright, collector of the port, the witness said, and he had received a letter recently that confirmed the payment. The committee ordered him to bring the letter from his home at Baltimore.

Mulhall declared that the fight for Littlefield and "against Gompers" had come to be considered a National fight by the National Association of Manufacturers, and that for that reason such a large sum had been raised. He thought $60,000 had been spent in the Littlefield campaign in Maine in 1906.

C. C. Cox, former treasurer of the Massachusetts State committee, had told him, he said, of the raising of $20,000 for this purpose in and about Boston.

With the conclusion of the Littlefield fight September 10th, Mulhall said, he was shifted to New Jersey and took charge of the manufacturers' fight in the campaigns in the Seventh and Eighth New Jersey districts and in the 11th Pennsylvania district.

In supporting Dr. Cobleigh in the 11th Pennsylvania district Mulhall wrote to James S. Sherman, late Vice President, and then chairman of the Republican Congressional committee, asking for help to secure the endorsement of the Lincoln party in his district. In this letter, dated October 18th, 1906, Mulhall asked Mr. Sherman to use his influence to this end with Charles Emery Smith, former postmaster General, and also asked that Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana, and John T. McDonough, ex-Secretary of State of New York, be sent to the 11th district for campaign purposes.

Another letter to Sherman on the same date again urged him to send prominent speakers into the 11th district.

The committeemen laughed when Mr. Sherman's reply to the Mulhall letters appeared. It was written from the headquarters of the Republican committee to Marshall Cushing at Washington and enclosed the envelopes in which Mulhall's two letters had been contained.

"These were delivered to the Democratic Congressional committee at Broadway and 27th street," said Mr. Sherman. "The people over there were good enough to send them right over here by messenger without opening them. Let me suggest that you advise Mulhall at once of our correct address and that we are the Republican Congressional Committee, not the National Congressional committee."

"Did Mr. Sherman know that you were being paid for your work by the National Association of Manufacturers?" asked Senator Reed.

"Oh, yes," answered Mulhall. "I took orders from the National committee almost as much as from Mr. Cushing."

Another letter read related Mulhall's mission to Congressman Geo. W. Fairchild's district in New York. Mr. Fairchild was fearful of the effect of the Hearst ticket upon his campaign, said Mulhall. He said he got a letter from the Hearst people and spent $40, entertaining and getting acquainted with the Hearst manager, and finally found out and gave to Mr. Fairchild all the information he wanted about his enemy's campaign.

HORRORS OF WAR.

Reports of Fiendish Atrocities of Bulgarian Army Fully Confirmed.

Saloniki, July 14.—The sacking and burning of the town of Seres by the defeated Bulgarian army and the accompanying outrages on women and trocities on men were fully confirmed today in a dispatch from a well known Greek correspondent.

The retreating Bulgarian soldiers, he telegraphed, opened a cannonade with four field guns from a hill above the town on Friday. At the same time bands of Bulgarian soldiers, led by their officers, secured the streets, first pillaging the stores and houses and then drenching them with petroleum and setting them alight until the greater part of the town was blazing.

The soldiers were accompanied by the notorious revolutionary colonel, Yankoff, who with other former officers of the Bulgarian army were very active in Macedonia in 1903.

Even the foreign consulates in Seres were not spared, according to the correspondent. The Austro-Hungarian consular offices were plundered and burned, vice Consul George C. Zlatke being carried off by the marauders, but subsequently ransomed. The Italian consulate also was sacked, but the consul bought off the incendiaries.

The Bank of Athens, the Oriental Bank, the Palace of the Metropolitan the Great Synagogue, all the schools, the tobacco warehouses of the American, Austrian and German companies, and the hospitals were burned after they had been pillaged.

The American tobacco company alone suffered to the extent of $1,000,000.

Many people were crucified, hacked to pieces or burned alive by the maddened Bulgarians, who committed incredible outrages on women of all ages, many of whom died from the effects. The condition of those escaped is lamentable.

Rich merchants are dying of hunger, while wretched mothers are trying to find covering and food for their naked and starving children.

The situation is desperate as all the pharmacies were burned down and there is a total lack of medicines for the sick and bandages for the injured.

The Greek authorities in Saloniki are rushing food stuffs, clothing and medicines to the stricken town.

London, July 24.—King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, in a long message dispatched from Sofia on July 12th, informs the Evening News:

"The stories and reports which the Greeks and Servians have been circulating in Europe concerning so-called outrages committed by my troops upon the Greek and Servian population in Macedonia are absolutely unfounded and are published with the object of creating a bad impression."

London, July 14.—That the Balkans war will end by a process of mutual exhaustion seems the only hope Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is able to hold out. In a statement in the House of Commons tonight he said that more words were not likely to affect the situation, and it would be most difficult for the European powers to resort to force to impose peace.

Neither Servia nor Greece has paid any attention to Russia's proposal that they cease hostilities. They appear determined to negotiate peace with Bulgaria only on the field without intervention by any third party, and unless Bulgaria proves amenable it is believed that an advance would be made upon Sofia to enforce acceptance of the Servian-Greek terms.

Serious fighting for the time being is suspended, but the advance of the Turkish and Rumanian troops continues without opposition. A Belgrade report says the Servians on Sunday captured an important position eight miles west of Kustendil.

According to the Athens correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, Greece and Servia signed a secret treaty last May, binding them to prosecute a war then foreseen with Bulgaria until the Bulgars acquiesced in the territorial arrangements laid down in the treaty. By these arrangements the eastern boundaries of Greece would be extended to the Mesta river, considerably to the east of Drama, and Servia would have an access to the Aegean Sea at two points.

SUNDAY AT THE CAMP

Chaplain N. Harding Conducts Services for National Guard

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Glenn, Morehead City, N. C., July 14.—Religious service was held at this post Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. N. Harding, the aged chaplain of the Second Infantry.

Chaplain Harding, who ranks as captain is the oldest officer in the North Carolina State troops, and wears a medal showing service of the longest term recognized by the State. For 51 weeks in the year he is the rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church at Washington, and has been for 40 years, but during encampment periods Mr. Harding is an enthusiastic soldier—the best loved of all in his regiment. He is a veteran of the Confederacy also. The service today was short, simple, and well attended by officers and men. An improvised orchestra from the band played "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Nearer, My God to Thee," while the khaki-clad congregation sang the old hymns with rare spirit. The venerable chaplain, dressed in the blue uniform of his rank, led in prayer and made the soldiers a little talk.

to form the basis of settlement with the sheriff. Scrutiny of the list revealed a number of names of people who, in the opinion of the board, could be made to pay these overdue taxes, and the list was referred back to the sheriff and auditor, to be worked over again, and authority was given to employ a special deputy to try to collect from such delinquents as can be garnisheed or otherwise required to come across and a report made on each individual case wherein the collector fails to get the money. Among the delinquents are 1,523 who haven't paid poll tax, these including many negroes and men who have left the county.

Some well known people are on the list, it was stated; people who live and work in the city, and the board thought that there should be no trouble to collect their taxes if the proper effort was made to get the money; and if there was any trouble about it, why, it was said, the law could be invoked.

The amount of uncollectible tax is deducted from the total charged to the sheriff, and he is relieved of that much, and this being the case, final settlement with the sheriff will be deferred until another report is heard on the list of delinquents.

Chairman Willard developed the point that the sheriff, by reason of the listing of property with him by people who did not like with the tax listers, could make a showing of 100 per cent. collected, and still there could be several thousand dollars uncollected, the property listed and collected on by the sheriff's office being balanced off against the odds and ends at the final windup, such as this list of $4,700 reported delinquents.

Additional Deputy Authorized.

A communication was received from the sheriff stating that his office was so crowded with work that another deputy was badly needed. On motion of Commissioner McGirt another such officer was allowed, at a salary of $75 a month. Commissioner McGirt incorporated in his motion that the sheriff employ Patrolman Joe S. Lane, of the police force, but withdrew that when it was suggested that the sheriff had the prerogative to employ anybody he wished. The new official, it is learned, must be approved first by the auditor and the county attorney, this being a provision of the salary law enacted by the last Legislature.

Commissioner McGirt, who is interested in the matter of stopping the open sale on Sunday of soft drinks and goods at small stands around in the county, notably at Delgado, where complaint has been made by people, suggested that the Commissioners cooperate with the sheriff and have one or two special deputies to enforce the law, which provides a dollar penalty for keeping open shop, in each and every instance of a sale.

Commissioner Kerr didn't like the idea, much: he said the sheriff and his deputies were the officers of the law, and that they should enforce it without employing special officers. The matter was postponed, though the board again expressed its sympathy for people who have made complaint about the nuisance of open drink stands and shops on Sunday.

Some question was asked as to the amount of work in the sheriff's office, several Commissioners stating that they had heard complaint because of the inability of people to get papers served. Justice W. A. McGowan was present and he was asked about it. He said that it was true that there was delay sometimes, attributable to two causes—too much work at times for the office force to handle, and lack of proper effort at other times. A person to be served might not be at home when an officer called, he said, and unless further effort were made, naturally service could not be accomplished. Justice McGowan said he thought it was a bad idea to put the officers on salaries.

Justice McGowan's automobile assessment report was again taken up, the board being ready for objections to valuations made by him. Only two or three were made, and the report stands approved. Inasmuch as the city will benefit by the increased valuation of automobiles, amounting to $43,500, the Commissioners thought the city would be wining to bear a portion of the expense of employing a special assessor.

Difficult Question of Values.

Col. Walker Taylor was before the board about two points in property assessment. He brought out the point that property assessed on account of street improvements, belonging to people who owned more than one lot in the same block, would have to be separated from the other property not abutting on improved streets, because in the valuation of a man's realty in the same block, it was bunched. The board appointed a special committee of Commissioners McGirt, Moore and Yopp, to find the value of individual pieces of property abutting on improved streets, and separate it from other property belonging to the same party but not subject to the extra assessment.

The other point Col. Taylor made was in the case of corner property. His holding on corner of Third and Church streets, and the property of other people was cited as examples. He has been assessed 10 per cent. increase on his valuation because of Third street improvements, and 5 per cent. on the same property for Church street improvements, or 15 per cent. increase in all. He contended that this was not equitable. Corner property being more valuable than property in the middle of a block, he said, was already assessed something like 25 per cent. higher than property inside the block; and he argued that it was unfair to assess him 5 per cent. on Church street, on the Third street valuation as a basis. Chairman Willard pointed out that if this method of taxing property abutting on improved streets had ont been followed, property would have been required to pay one-third of the direct cost of improvements, and corner property would have had to pay on both front and side.

There was much argument, but after the first contentions had been stated, it went around in a circle. The same special committee was ordered to look into it.

Assessment tangles of Messrs. H. S. Meredith and Ed. Schulken were referred to Commissioner Moore and Auditor Orrell, with power to act. Commissioner McGirt reported the release of the cripple convict, Dave Williams, last Saturday. Chairman Willard stated to Mr. N. M. McEachern, foreman of the grand jury, who was present, that he would be glad to give the grand jury any information about the county camps, etc., that it might want.

Commissioner Yopp said he thought the board ought to take action about electing a coroner, that he thought the coroner ought to be a physician, and that two physicians had suggested Dr. James A. Smith, physician and druggist on North Fourth street. Commissioner McGirt, who had at the last meeting suggested the name of Mr. M. H. Brimmer, an undertaker, said action had been deferred last time, when Mr. Yopp was absent, at request of Commissioner Moore, and the latter being absent yesterday, he thought the election had better be postponed again; he didn't know what Commissioner Moore wished to do. Commissioner Yopp said it was troublesome for undertakers as matters stood now; he also said he didn't think any undertaker should fill the office. Mr. McGirt said he wouldn't insist on Mr. Brimmer. The matter was then dropped until next meeting.

Bids were ordered by advertisement for the road, and school bonds, amounting to $125,000; bids to be opened August 18th.

The bonds will be dated July 1st, 1913, and will be sold in denominations to suit purchaser, will run 25 years at 4 1-2 per cent. interest. Certified checks to the amount of 5 per cent. of the bid must accompany each bid.

Commissioner McGirt stated that the incinerator would be ready for demonstration next week, and moved that Dr. Nesbitt, superintendent of health, be a committee to represent the county at the "opening," which was carried. Auditor Orrell stated that the tax lists were about ready for scrutiny by the board, and chairman Willard and Commissioners McGirt and Moore will be a committee to look over them by the time the board meets again.

Adjournment was taken at 5:30, to meet at the call of the chairman. All members except Commissioner Moore, were present, as were County Attorney Marsden Bellamy, Auditor Orrell and Clerk Williams.

now, to prevent a great inconvenience and perhaps a disastrous situation for the carrying business of the country.

The President said he would name the new commission as quickly as possible and that the contending parties had assured him that they would await legislative action.

The merits of the controversy itself were not touched on at today's conference, the legislative side alone being canvassed.

Aside from President Wilson, those who took part in the conference were: Seth Lowe, president of the National Civic Federation; Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the Commerce Court; W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central; Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; George W. Stephens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio; Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, director; W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; A. H. Smith, vice president of the New York Central; H. E. Wils, legislative representative Brotherhood Locomotive Engineers; Warren B. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. S. Carter, president Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; A. B. Garrelson, president Order of Railway Conductors; W. G. Lee, president Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor; Senator Newlands, chairman of the Senate Inter-State Commerce Commission; Representative Clayton, chairman of the House Judiciary committee; Representative James Mann, House minority leader, and Senator Kern, Senate majority leader.

The result of the conference meets with the approval of all the interested parties.

"We have until Wednesday night, in which to effect an amicable settlement," said Mr. Garrelson, after the meeting. "We are willing to avail ourselves of every means for a reasonable settlement. Should the Congress fail to act, then the entire subject will be referred to the committee of 1,000 for action."

W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central, said:

"The result of the conference was entirely satisfactory to the railway managers. It is exactly what has been agreed upon by the railways and the unions. When the Newlands measure shall have become a law, it will furnish the best means of settling future wage troubles. We are pleased in every way."

The other railway managers present concurred in this statement.

The Languedoc Canal

was the first large canal constructed in Europe, and was opened on May 19th, 1601. The digging of this canal was considered a gigantic undertaking, although it was a small affair compared with our great Panama canal.

This canal was 148 miles long and 6 1-2 feet deep. It cost $3,500,000 and required 15 years to build.

Did you ever think that digging a canal, shovelful by shovelful, is much like building a bank account, dollar by dollar, and while it seems slow work, yet in a few years wonders have been accomplished? A few cents a day or a few dollars a month regularly added to a bank account will provide in a very few years a fund of which one can be proud.

The Growth of Permanent Teeth is a more important consideration than many people will realize. If you wish an even set of teeth, a little attention in their early growth, will build an attractive set of teeth.

It requires a long continuous effort, for nature to build a set of teeth which must last for life. It is worth your effort to have a systematic habit of giving them several minutes of care daily. To keep them free from decay, is the secret of teeth that create delight from year to year.

One reason my operations do more than their intended purpose—patients become aroused to give teeth more thoughtful care.

Your call today is your profit.
